U.S. Offers Aid Plan To Latin Group

Dillon Lists Policy To Curb Red Moves Inside Hemisphere

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The United States offers Latin America today a challenging program designed to fortify the hemisphere against assault from world communism.

Secretary of the Treasury C. Douglas Dillon will present the broad outlines of President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program in a speech billed as a historic statement of U.S. hemisphere policy.

Dillon will tell delegates to the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference how the United States proposes to help Latin America tackle its age-old problems of poverty and illiteracy and approach the goal of economic stability.

Viewing this program as a common concern of the Western alliance against communism, the United States will invite Europe's developed nations to join in the drive to secure Latin America.

The Kennedy administration is prepared to commit itself to a 10-year crash program to bolster Latin America. It is ready to start the program rolling with a billion-dollar push in the first year.

Some Latin American delegates already were complaining that the billion dollars was not enough and included sums previously approved.

President Eduardo Victor Haedo of Uruguay and other Latin American leaders at the conference also were reported urging that President Kennedy reconsider his decision not to attend the conference because of the press of world affairs. These Latin Americans felt that an appearance by Kennedy would give Alliance for Progress a dramatic push and would offset to some extent the psychological impact on Latin America of the New Soviet space flight and Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech to the Soviet people tonight.

White House sources indicated, however, that the President would not change his decision to remain in the United States.

U.S. participation in the conference, American sources said, is no propaganda show, although there obviously is hope that it will have a strong psychological impact on the building up of Latin America's economic strength.

The conference of 20 American states is pictured as a business-like, sober approach to Latin America's perilous problems. With the opening ceremonies of the way, the delegates turn today to the difficult job of ham-

Kennedy Has Key Aid Vote, Leader Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said today the Kennedy administration has the votes to defeat a coalition effort to require yearly congressional approval of long-range foreign aid lending.

"We are very optimistic about Senate passage of this provision," Humphrey said. "We are not going to compromise on it. We don't have to, since we have the votes."

After time out for argument over the nomination of Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr., of Houston, to the Federal Power Commission, the Senate will plunge back into debate on its $4,326,500,000 version of a foreign aid authorization bill.

The House, engaged in routine matters, may reach by midweek a showdown vote on the Senate's action in adding $95 million to a money bill to finance an electric power producing installation at the Hanford, Wash., plutonium plant.

Humphrey, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said he is con-

Berlin Stand Aired

West Says Next Move Up To Reds

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Four foreign ministers made clear today they are willing to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin problem but left the next move to the Soviet Union.

After a two-day review of the crisis resulting from Soviet Premier Khrushchev's new drive to end the allied occupation of West Berlin, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany said they would talk with the Soviets "only on a reasonable basis" but that the Soviets have done nothing so far to provide for such an approach.

The talks must be conducted on a "plane of mutual respect," a French spokesman said. A British spokesman said Moscow's last notes to the four allies, threatening a separate peace with the East Germans and demanding a new status for West Berlin, amounted to "abuse which does not provide reasonable basis for negotiation."

The Western powers decided to await further developments before taking any initiative toward an East-West conference. One of these developments will be Premier Khrushchev's speech tonight.

Khrushchev, reportedly angered by President Kennedy's speech on the Soviet challenge to Berlin, is expected to reply when he goes on a nationwide radio and TV network. The Soviet leader reportedly told visiting Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani he considered Kennedy's speech excessively belligerent.

Leaders of the Communist Warsaw Pact nations disclosed Saturday night they had decided in a secret three-day Kremlin meeting to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany by the end of this year. The eight-nation group asserted that delaying a German treaty indefinitely would "contribute to an intensification of the threat of a new war in Europe and not only in Europe."

Khrushchev stated in notes to the Western powers last week that he is ready to negotiate a settlement on the future of Germany and Berlin. But he apparently left it to the West to take the initiative.

2 Wellsville Men Injured In Car Crash

2 From Beloit Also Hurt In Another Mishap On Sunday

Two Wellsville area men were hospitalized with injuries suffered when their car wrecked early Sunday morning and two Beloit residents were injured in a two-car crash last night, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Donald I. Hazlett, 21, of 536 Campground Rd. is in "fairly good" condition and Raymond McClure, 19, of Township Line Rd. is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in the mishap yesterday at 2:45 a. m. on Route 39 about two miles west of Wellsville.

Officers said Hazlett, the driver, lost control on a curve. The car went off the right side of the highway, struck a fence post and overturned in a field. Hazlett was cited for reckless operation.

He suffered fractures of the left wrist and elbow and a severe laceration of the left arm. McClure suffered possible internal injuries, a laceration of the right arm and chest and back injuries.

Cars driven by Joseph J. Reese, 30, of R. D. 2 and Lawrence Whitla, 43, of Beloit collided on County Rd. 424 a mile west of Route 39 last night at 7:25.

Officers said Reese made a left turn into the path of the Whitla auto. Reese was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Motorist Cited In Parked Car Crash

A Wellsville man was arrested for leaving the scene of an accident after his car struck a parked auto about midnight Sunday on Main St., Wellsville.

Police said Robert Fraser of Danbury Ave. was spotted and picked up at home a few minutes after the mishap. His car struck the car of James Milligan, 407 3rd St., Wellsville, in the 1300 block of Main St.

He will receive a hearing before Mayor William J. Shoub.

Man Burned But Escapes From Home

$8,000 Loss Seen In Lisbon District 'Cigarette' Blaze

LISBON — One man was hospitalized and damage of $8,000 was reported as the result of a fire Sunday morning just south of the Center-Wayne Township Line off Route 164, according to Thirl Flanagan, Lisbon volunteer fire chief.

John Koffel, 38, is in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital with burns of his head, right side of face, right arm and side and both hands, but he escaped with his life by leaping.

Firemen were called at 9:16 a. m. to the four-room apartment over a two-car block garage. Koffel apparently fell asleep while smoking, firemen said.

He said he awoke and found the room filled with smoke. He said he grabbed a chair and knocked out the window and jumped out. The chair was so hot it burned his palms, firemen said. He was found wandering around in his shorts when they arrived.

The garage and two-story shingled home 15 feet away were damaged and John S. Walter of North Lima, owner, estimated $5,000 damage to the garage apartment and $3,000 to the side of the home. It was empty but tenants were scheduled to move in today.

He said the loss is insured.

Five fire units battled the blaze and poured water on the house to keep it from catching afire. Fire-

Water Suspension Reset To Tuesday

A scheduled suspension of water service for some 30 homes in the Oakland district of the East End was postponed this morning until Tuesday, the water department said today.

Water will be turned off tomorrow morning at 8 for three to four hours to homes on Minnesota Ave., Park Ave. also known as Hanley St., Alpha St., Alpha St. Ext. and Oakland Ave. on the west side of Pennsylvania Ave. to permit a crew to tap a line into a new fire hydrant at Minnesota and Park Aves.

A spokesman said the postponement was decided on after a crew uncovered another line in the vicinity. If it had proceeded, the cutoff would have lasted longer than the time for which the customers had been warned, he explained.

U.S. Reacts Calmly To Soviet Feat

Washington Takes Stand Of 'Let's Get On With Our Plans'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official Washington took the Soviet Union's second manned spaceship flight in stride. The general attitude was let's get on with our own space program.

Here and there an ominous note was struck—that the Soviet space success possibly portends a military threat to the United States.

The consensus was that the Soviets had scored a major accomplishment.

Typical of the let's-be-calm mood was the remark of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

"We shall do it in due course in equal and even larger degrees. Our space progress has been excellent and will pick up steam as it goes along," Dirksen said.

Among those looking at the dark side of the Soviet feat was Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

"There are some indications that a satellite of this size could be utilized as a very dangerous weapon," Russell said.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said at Hyannis Port, Mass., after conferring with President Kennedy on U.N. matters: "Russia's scientific contribution to the conquest of outer space commands our admiration."

"Orbiting a new astronaut for a longer period is another step forward. Let us hope the capsule is recovered and the life of this brave man saved."

Stevenson told newsmen he was sure these were also the views of the President. He added that he and Kennedy shared the view that space control was necessary and that they hoped the Soviets will "no longer delay in joining us in cooperative regulation in the use of outer space."

George M. Low, chief of the National Aeronautic and Space Administration's program, said the Soviet achievement had been expected by American space officials.

Low said it would be "quite some time yet" before the United States could hope to duplicate it. The U.S. program, he said, was "being pushed hard and has been pushed hard," but cannot go faster than it is going.

At Langley Air Force Base, Va., announcement of the Soviet achievement was received with typical calm by the U.S. Mercury astronauts. A spokesman, Lt. Col. John A. Powers, said: "None of us are particularly surprised."

Berlin Reds Say Workers Hunting Jobs

Restrictions Curb Commuters' Travel To West Area Work

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communists claimed today large numbers of commuters are giving up their jobs in West Berlin and looking for work under Red rule.

The Communists have been putting commuters under heavy pressure. People who live in Communist areas and work in West Berlin now have to pay rent and many other bills in Western currency, instead of Communist-issued money worth only one-fifth as much.

Junge Welt, the Communist youth daily, said that since early Saturday calls have been piling up at East Berlin factories from commuters who want new jobs. It

Senator Hits Accusation Of Rep. Moore

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., took issue today with critics of a recent Senate amendment providing $5 million for the study of nuclear processes which could be used for improving and utilizing coal and coal products.

Randolph, a co-sponsor of the measure, in remarks prepared for delivery in the Senate, denied published reports that a "trade" had been made between sponsors of the main bill setting aside $95 million for a nuclear power project at Hanford, Wash., and senators from coal producing states.

He said the allegation had been made by Rep. Arch Moore Jr., R-W. Va.

Randolph quoted from a newspaper item quoting Moore as saying "the best interest of coal miners and the coal industry was traded for peanuts on the floor of the U. S. Senate."

He said Moore "went beyond being inaccurate and unfair . . . he was impugning the integrity of the Senate . . . inasmuch as the $5 million coal research amendment was adopted by the Senate without a dissenting voice."

Randolph said the charge that the amendment represents "peanuts" implied that the $95 million Hanford project would cost coal miners and coal producers many times the value to be received from the $5 million investment in coal research.

He said he challenged Moore to look into the future and say with certainty that the Hanford project would damage the coal industry.

Randolph called the idea that a "trade" of votes was involved "a figment of Moore's imagination." He urged adoption of the measure with the coal research amendment included.

Fire Damages Shed

EAST PALESTINE — Fire caused about $100 damage to a storage shed of the McConnell Building Supply Co. on Route 170 north Sunday night at 11:20. The tar paper roof burned brightly and Negley firemen were called when firemen at first thought it was serious. The building is owned by Neuman McConnell of N. Market St. Ext. It houses steel hoists and other construction equipment.

The sale is in charge of the ELMA promotion committee, comprised of Tom Phillips, chairman; Charles Averill, vice chairman; James Locke, William Kozel, Charles Stuart, George A. Shaw and Ralph A. Finley.

Action Urged In Control Of Outer Space

Leaders Cite Hope For International Space Regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy flew back to the capital today after a Cape Cod weekend during which he charted United Nations strategy with Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and discussed the latest Soviet space achievement with the U.N. envoy.

Kennedy received word during his stay at his summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., of the sustained orbital flight of Soviet Maj. Gherman Titov.

Afterward Stevenson reported he and the President agreed the feat points up the need for international control of outer space.

"Russia's scientific contribution to the conquest of outer space commands our admiration," said Stevenson after meeting with Kennedy. "This event sharpens the need for some action to regulate the use of outer space and to keep the arms race from spreading to that field."

"The President has recently announced his proposals for cooperative sharing of communications and weather satellites," Stevenson continued.

"We hope the Russians won't delay longer in joining us in cooperative regulation in the use of outer space."

Stevenson arrived at Hyannis Port Saturday morning and spent much of the day with the President. Joining in the talks were Harlan Cleveland, assistant secretary of state for international organization, and Arthur E. Schlesinger Jr., Harvard historian and presidential adviser.

Their talks touched on many problems that will face this country when the U.N. General Assembly meets Sept. 19.

In a news conference after his visit with Kennedy, Stevenson described the President as "very much discouraged by lack of progress" in talks with the Soviet Union on disarmament and the banning of nuclear tests.

The ambassador said he views Soviet Premier Khrushchev's

Titov Aloft 25 Hours In Space Ship

Major Second Man To Circle Earth; Reds Talk Of Moon

By PRESTON GROVER MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov successfully landed today in his space ship Vostok II after making more than 17 circuits of the globe.

The 26-year-old major—second Russian to fly around the earth through space—was in the air 25 hours and 18 minutes. He traveled about 435,000 miles—far enough to go to the moon and back.

"Comrade Titov is healthy and feels very well," Moscow Radio said.

The broadcast said he came down in a "pre-determined area" near the landing site of the first Soviet spaceman, Yuri Gagarin, after his history-making flight April 12. Gagarin, who made only one orbit of the earth, reportedly landed in southern Russia about 450 miles southeast of Moscow.

Titov, son of a retired Siberian school teacher, manually controlled his orbiting spaceship for periods up to an hour and carried on normal living functions—sleeping a full eight hours while in flight and eating three meals.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in a message congratulating Titov on his "heroic deed," exulted that the feat "has shown once again what Soviet man, educated by the Communist Party, is able to do."

"Until we meet soon in Moscow," Khrushchev concluded, indicating the government was planning a triumphal welcome to the capital for Titov like the one that greeted Gagarin after his space flight.

The Soviet Cabinet and the Presidium and Central Committee of Parliament, in a message to the peoples and governments of the world, said: "The time is not far away when the way will be paved to the moon, Mars and Venus, and new perspectives will open to mankind in the mastery of the cosmos."

Circling the globe every 88.6 minutes, Titov swung in an orbit that reached a maximum altitude of 159.59 miles and a minimum of 110.5 miles.

Gagarin's route was longer with a minimum height of 110 miles and a maximum of 188 miles.

Over and again Titov kept sending word back to earth that he was in great shape—"Am feeling fine. I feel excellent under conditions of weightlessness. Shipshape order on board."

The historic flight proved that a man can undergo the rigors of a flight to the moon without excessive ill effect.

The Soviets said the purpose of the flight was to study the effects on a human being of prolonged orbital flight and the descent to the earth's surface.

(Many Western observers surmised that the flight had been timed to reinforce Khrushchev's drive to end the Western Allies' occupation of West Berlin and particularly the threats to Berlin)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department today announced "basic" U.S.-Soviet agreement has been reached on setting up an air route between the two countries.

A final agreement for commercial air flights to link New York and Moscow should be signed shortly, the department said.

Talks have been underway here since July 18 on establishing a route which would be the first direct passenger air line service between the two nations.

Titov Back Safely From Earth Orbit

Khrushchev is expected to make in a major broadcast tonight.

Like Gagarin's flight, Titov's was greeted in both the Western and Communist world with praise for the Soviet scientific achievement. Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's giant radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, termed it "another important step in the Russian plan to populate the solar system beginning with the invasion of the moon in a few years' time."

Several West European newspapers said the flight was more evidence of the Soviet lead over the United States in the space race. But the news of Titov's flight was accepted calmly in Washington. Space officials and others showed no surprise.

Throughout his flight, the Soviets said, the handsome, wavy-haired Titov was kept in view from earth by television and while awake he maintained constant two-way radio communication.

He was in a smiling, happy-go-lucky mood throughout the trip, once wisecracking in a message to Muscovites: "I wish you had it so good."

"I am eagle—I am eagle," he said exultantly. Recorded excerpts from his conversations were broadcast to Moscow listeners.

Titov blasted off from an undesignated launching site at 9 a.m. Sunday. His craft weighed 10,407 pounds, only 13 pounds more than Gagarin's Vostok I.

During much of the flight, the Soviet news agency Tass and Moscow Radio gave almost play-by-play reports on the trip and announced ahead of time cities over which it would pass. The space ship was seen by many as a bright star traveling rapidly across the sky.

Giving his radio wavelengths, the Soviets invited the people of the world to listen in to the astronaut's broadcasts. He was heard—and recorded—by many listeners. Radio transmissions in code from the space ship also were picked up by Western monitors.

While Titov was in flight, Moscow Radio said there were "biological objects on board." This suggested that he might have had insects or animals as traveling companions.

The announcement said the cosmonaut took scientific data from the large number of devices in the cabin of the spaceship and observed the earth through three portholes in the ship.

On the streets of Moscow huge crowds gathered around loudspeakers at noon to hear the last announcement on the flight.

The crowds listened quietly and eagerly as the announcer spoke. When he finished, they drifted on their way with no particular display of emotion.

"This is the last announcement," the broadcast said. "The Soviet cosmic ship Vostok II, piloted by Soviet cosmonaut Maj. Gherman Stepanovich Titov, made more than 17 revolutions around the globe over a period of 25 hours 18 minutes and has covered more than 700,000 kilometers."

"In connection with the successful completion of the scientific program in accordance with the flight task, the space ship Vostok II has landed in the pre-determined area of the Soviet Union, close to the historic place of the landing of Vostok I, April 12, 1961, piloted by Yuri Gagarin."

"Comrade Titov is healthy and feels excellent."

"The continuous space flight of the Soviet cosmonaut, unprecedented in the history of mankind, has been successfully completed."

"The data received by research opened wide perspectives for the further development of manned space flights."

From the moment of going into orbit, Titov was in a chatty mood and showed supreme confidence throughout the long flight.

He was so relaxed that he overslept 37 minutes this morning while whirling around the globe.

He broadcast a stream of greetings to every continent as he passed over—including "my friendly greetings to the people of North America."

The youthful spaceman also sang the praises of the Communist Party and sent particular thanks to Soviet Premier Khrushchev for his "fatherly concern" about the flight.

"I will carry out the assignment of the party and the government without fail," Titov messaged after making his second orbit. "Tell this to Nikita Khrushchev."

Titov landed at 10:18 a.m., one full day plus an hour and 18 minutes after the huge rocket had blasted him into space, presumably from the same cosmodrome near Bakour from which Gagarin was launched.

This is about 700 miles east of the Caspians in the virgin land area and not far from the path chosen by U.S. pilot Francis Gary Powers for his ill-fated U2 flight over the Soviet Union.

Moscow Radio proclaimed that the "Soviet people congratulate and embrace Gherman Titov on his happy return."

Gagarin, whom Titov called "my great friend," cut short a visit to Halifax, N.S., to rush back to Moscow to greet his fellow cosmonaut. He told newsmen he knew in advance about Titov's flight and had personally checked out the Vostok II space capsule.

Titov Satellite Looked Like Star To Viewers

By The Associated Press

"A very bright star" and "a marble."

These were among the ways earthbound spectators described the manned space satellite carrying Soviet spaceman Gherman Stepanovich Titov as it whizzed over this section of the globe.

A Moonwatch team at Allegheny Observatory in Pittsburgh sighted the satellite twice and reported it looked like "a very bright star."

In Charleston, S.C., radio newsmen Bob Townsend stepped out of the WTMA newsroom and sighted Vostok II through patch clouds. It "looked about the size of a marble," he said.

In Arlington, Va., M-Sgt. James A. Duffy tuned his radio to one of the frequencies given for the spaceship "just for the heck of it."

Duffy got a message which he recorded on tape. Translated by a Soviet Embassy attache and broadcast over local station WTOP, the message said:

"Attention, attention. Flying over North American continent. Sending my friendly greeting to the people of North America from the Soviet spaceship Vostok II. Cosmonaut Titov."

Jury To Weigh Hijack Charges Against Dad, Son

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason called a special session of the federal grand jury today to hear testimony for possible indictment and trial against the Arizona father and son who hijacked a Continental Airlines jet over El Paso last Thursday.

Judge Thomason said if an indictment should be returned, Leon Bearden, 50, and his son, Cody, 16, would probably be arraigned in U.S. District Court either Thursday or Friday.

The two are being held in lieu of $100,000 bond each. They are charged with kidnapping and interstate transportation of a stolen aircraft.

The Beardens pulled guns on the crew of the Boeing 707 jet and forced the pilot to land at El Paso to take on additional fuel to fly to Cuba with 10 hostages from the 65 passengers aboard the plane.

The plane was on the ground for nearly 10 hours before the men were subdued by officers. Police riddled the plane's tires with bullets when it attempted to take off.

The Beardens, taken before a U.S. commissioner entered a plea of innocent.

If convicted, the two could be sentenced to life imprisonment on the kidnapping charge under the Lindbergh Act.

The maximum prison sentence under the Dyer Act for transporting a stolen vehicle interstate is five years.

McElroy Gives Ruling On Re-Hired Officers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said today a policeman re-employed by a city can restore his relief and pension funds rights by redeposit of the amount he withdrew.

The opinion, to Butler County Prosecutor Robert L. Marrs, said that passing a civil service examination was a prerequisite to getting the job back.

City officials in Middletown raised the questions, Marrs told McElroy.

Permit Lifted 30 Days In Patrol Case

The driving permit of a Wells-ville motorist was suspended for 30 days today in Municipal Court when he was arraigned on a speeding charge filed by the State Highway Patrol.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff decreed the suspension for Robert Franklin, 1801 Nevada St., and also ordered him to pay the costs of $7.50.

Franklin was cited at 5:15 p. m. Saturday for speeding 70 miles an hour on the East Liverpool-Wells-ville Rd., the patrol said. Franklin failed to appear when court convened but showed up shortly before it adjourned.

One driver received a suspended fine and another was acquitted as the aftermath of a collision Friday night at Armstrong Ln. and Park Way.

Jerald Ed Cochran, 21, of McKee St. received a suspended fine of $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of driving left of center while Robert W. Beatty, 20, of Forsyth Pl. was acquitted of failing to stop for a stop sign after pleading not guilty. He was represented by Atty. Donald Shay.

James T. Shamrock of Warren forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of passing on a curve on Route 30. He was cited late Friday afternoon by the State Highway Patrol.

William E. Fair Jr. of Steubenville, cited Sunday at 6:07 p. m. for crashing a traffic signal at Dresden Ave. and W. 9th St., forfeited a $32.50 bond.

Hearings for two other motorists were continued by Judge Chertoff.

A continuance was granted George F. Posey, 27, after the Carroll Ln. resident said he was unable to secure an appointment to obtain a new license until late this week.

Posey was cited July 31 by the patrol for driving without a license. He explained to the court that it expired without his knowledge and a continuance had been granted until today to permit him to obtain a new permit.

A hearing was continued indefinitely for William Wells of Park Way, cited Thursday morning after his car struck two parked autos on lower St. Clair Ave.

Police said the elderly man told them he did not see the parked cars and was unable to explain the collision.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Do you have any tips for making easier the job of cutting corn off the cob for canning?

A. This job will be easier if you'll use a shoehorn, instead of a knife. The wide end of the horn, which is sharpened, conforms to the curvature of the average ear of corn, and facilitates the shearing off of the kernels.

Q. What can I do when I need only a few drops of lemon juice and don't wish to cut a whole lemon into halves?

A. Pierce the lemon with a fork or knife and squeeze out the required amount of juice. Then the lemon can be returned to the refrigerator for later use.

Q. How can I make a good dead-black paint?

A. By thinning some lamp black, of the type ground in linseed oil, with some turpentine.

A Study Of National Defense

To the things no politician ever opposes—home, fireside, motherhood, virtue—add, national defense.

There have been instances of political opposition to details of national defense but never has anyone in public life wondered if the idea behind the phrase was really above reproach. It probably never will happen. We are now seeing how it works.

National defense is what the national defenders say it is. It is not a condition but a goal. At any given instant, the goal is being approached from many different directions. And usually at any given instant, the people approaching it from different directions are squabbling.

But every so often, as now, in response to an outside threat, all squabbling stops and national defense becomes a consensus. Differences of opinion are put aside. Everybody in public life underwrites the same proposition, that national defense is whatever the national defenders say it is.

THEREFORE, whatever it takes to achieve the national defense, in terms of what the President of the United States says is needed, should be granted, plus some to spare. That is where the matter stands now. President Kennedy is getting his full allotment, plus some to spare.

No one in politics dares to be against this vast expenditure openly, though there are doubts.

It will take some getting used to for all of us to live with the idea that new weapons did not supplant old weapons but were only added to old weapons.

Missiles are not going to replace manned bombers.

Electronic experts are not going to replace fighting men.

The dogface in the muddy uniform is going to pose for his picture next to the astronaut in a space suit in the panel of Americans making tomorrow's history today.

The nearer the world comes to the eventuality of nuclear warfare, in which everything would be over in a few days, the more wistfully it thinks about staying around for some more controllable kind of warfare.

IT IS AS THOUGH time had moved backward and the planes that carried the first crude A-bombs to Hiroshima and Nagasaki were being called back and reloaded with old-fashioned blockbusters and fire bombs.

The intercontinental missiles are in their cocoons ready to be fired.

The pushbutton experts are going through their endless dry runs for destruction by remote control.

This is the way it was supposed to be. But this is not the way it is going to be under the revised version of national defense.

There will be these things and all the old things, too—planes, soldiers, ships and tanks.

National defense being what the national defenders say it is, national defense is now a little of everything that ever was, is and will be. Before the job is finished, don't be surprised if the cavalry makes a comeback. A couple of million dollars for horses and saddles and the Russians, who never gave up horses in the first place, would be convinced the Americans really do mean business.

Sketch Of A Man On Eggs

It has become Prime Minister Macmillan's role to protest about the things that might happen if Britain "joined the continent," while making sure the joining takes place as rapidly as possible. He is walking on eggs.

Insight into his position was given by a 315-5 vote in the House of Commons for the beginning of negotiations, with Labor party members abstaining. This took them off the spot as possible opponents and at the same time let them go through the motions of washing their hands of an issue they were reluctant to argue.

WHAT IS SO IMPORTANT to the prime minister, his government and Britain about "joining the continent"? Here is a paragraph from Mr. Macmillan's statement in the House of Commons:

"A community comprising, as members or in association, the countries of Free Europe, could have a very rapidly expanding economy supplying, as eventually it would, a single market of approaching 300 million people. This rapidly expanding economy could in turn lead to increased demand for the products of other parts of the world and so help to expand world trade and improve the prospects of the less developed areas of the world."

The British would not approach this opportunity to reach 300 million customers without backing of their own, both the members of their commonwealth and the members of the European Trade Association. Offsetting the misgivings of the countries with which Britain already has trade agreements would be potentialities of expanded trade, through British intermediaries, with members of the European Economic Community. It is probable that some members of the European Trade Association would want to join the Economic Community in their own right.

The advantages are so obvious and the disadvantages so problematic that all Prime Minister Macmillan needs to do is let nature take its course. But in the meantime the politicians at home and their friends abroad must cry and moan to show they are wide awake.

MR. MACMILLAN wouldn't dare to do it, because it would get him thrown out of the Ancient and Honorable Guild of Politicians, but he could settle the whole thing by saying he had changed his mind and was going to oppose the move to have Britain "join the continent."

There immediately would be a hue and cry for throwing him out of office for malfeasance, misfeasance and nonfeasance. The issue would be settled. Conservatives and Laborites would join hands to make certain that Britain joined the European Economic Community, taking with it as many of its economic friends as cared to tag along.

That's Why It's Called Bargaining

In another 25 years, everything about collective bargaining in the nation's industries will be familiar to the public. There will be no more surprises.

There are no real surprises now — only feigned surprises.

In January 1958, Walter P. Reuther of United Auto Workers proposed that auto makers should share their profits with their employees and their customers. All the auto makers feigned surprise, including George W. Romney of American Motors Corp. Mr. Romney went further, as did most of them, and declared he was shocked by a proposal that would undermine the U.S. economy.

There was no profit-sharing in 1958 contracts.

Yet American Motors Corp. surprised the trade with profit-sharing for customers last winter. That was to be in the form of a rebate depending upon total sales of the organization's cars. In only one month did buyers get the rebate—December.

And this summer it is American Motors Corp. that has surprised the automobile trade with a proposal for profit-sharing for employees.

In truth, there is nothing surprising about this move. It is part of the bargaining process for the automobile industry, like the proposals that bob up in the bargaining process for the steel industry and all other industries.

If We Could Only Shine Up His Armor

Remedy Suggested For Colleges

By Raymond Moley

Among the very few defensible items in the aid-to-education miscellany sent to Congress by President Kennedy are the provisions for loans for college construction. But these would hardly scratch the surface of the problem claimed by higher institutions in meeting the predicted increase in enrollment from 3.6 million to more than six million in 1970.

It is estimated that $18 billion will be needed for physical facilities alone. And considering the inflationary course now so heedlessly taken by the President and Congress, this dollar estimate is low.

Such a sum is simply not in sight. Neither the federal government nor the states nor private donors nor parents, who are to feel an extra tax bite, can afford it.

Realistic college administrators are beginning to realize this, and quest for more money to the necessity of using what they have and can reasonably get with more efficiency.

Among these realists is James Creese, president of Drexel Institute of Philadelphia, whose institution has issued a most illuminating report, "Space and Dollars: An Urban University Expands."

THIS REPORT emphasizes the immense and growing importance of urban institutions. Those institutions located in the often congested areas of metropolitan centers already care for more than one half the entire college population.

Their attractiveness will grow beyond that of the quiet, romantic, secluded havens where at once students are nourished in the scholastic disciplines and in the gracious arts of wasting time.

The urban institution offers the advantages of propinquity to sources of culture and scientific achievement. But more, it is coming to be the only place where medium-income parents can afford to send their children. It is a place where the student can live at home while he is getting an education.

On the one hand, the urban institution in caring for more students is faced by limited and inflation-afflicted land costs and, on the other, by the problems of "high-rise" building, meaning skyscraper construction.

For a while the solution seemed to up there, as Gertrude Stein said of the United States, "where nobody is than anybody is." But that solution now confronts not only the big added cost of elevators, but the building regulations for fire exits, stairways and walkways, and the added costs in the lower parts of the building, larger ventilating doors, and in some places more facilities for air conditioning.

THE PROBLEM comes down to a greater and more efficient use of available space, and the Drexel report is merciless in showing how valuable space and facilities are now being wasted in the whole world of higher education.

Reliable surveys show a shocking under-utilization of the space already available to colleges. In a study by Michigan State University of 64 colleges in the North shown that in 56 of these the average use of classrooms (based on a 44-hour week) was 40 per cent, and some ranged as low as 21 per cent.

Among the same institutions the utilization of laboratories (with expensive equipment) was 24 per cent, with some as low as 10 per cent.

This study indicated that with efficient use of space, from 50 per cent to 70 per cent more students could be accommodated with no new construction.

In one instance the chemistry laboratory was used for only two sections of students, a total of 10 hours a week.

THE REASON more student sections were not assigned to this space was that there were only two drawers in each desk for the glassware used by the students.

If there were wire arrangements along the walls, many students' glassware could be accommodated.

It was not necessary in an institution like Drexel to consider the gross waste of time in the arrangement of the college year. But it is obvious that by shortening vacations and eliminating the enormous and unnecessary proliferation of courses, the standard college course of four years could easily be shortened to three.

With some imagination the standard three recitations a week in a course could be cut to one lecture by a top professor and two quiz and discussion periods by junior instructors.

Certain obvious reforms in present practices could save a year of students' lives. They could also offer the opportunity, for faculty members who wish to add to their incomes, to work as long during the year as the average executive or worker, without any appreciable injury to health or productivity.

The real problems faced by our institutions of learning, from the first grade to the graduate level, are their own absurd traditions.

Merger To Aid U.S.

Wider Markets Seen For Goods

American corporations should benefit in the long run by the proposed merger of the two rival European trade blocs and Britain's plans to apply for entry into the Common Market, foreign trade experts believe.

It is obvious, these experts said, that an economically unified Europe can increase economic activity and boost standards of living faster than can an economically fragmented Continent.

This enrichment is the best assurance for continued markets for American corporations. It is an axiom of foreign trade that the higher the standard of living the wider the trade opportunities. Britain, for example, now exports more to West Germany than ever before.

Merger of the two trade blocs would be a victory for American foreign policy which since World War II has been seeking a politically and economically strong Europe.

The immediate effect of the trade union will probably be a boost in investment by American corporations in the seven countries of the free trade area and the six countries of the Common Market.

ANOTHER EFFECT may be an increase in protectionist pressures some domestic manufacturers.

There is no doubt that the economic union, if it comes to pass, will mean greater competition for American companies. It already has brought this in the two rival trade areas.

Both blocs this year have reduced tariffs by 30 per cent. This means, for example, it is far cheaper for West German manufacturers to sell photographic equipment in, say, France, since the external tariff against the United States, in effect, has been unchanged.

However, there would be no immediately greater competition than was already expected, even if Britain gained entry in the Common Market by early next year.

The reason is that the schedule of internal tariff cutting in the Free Trade Association, which Britain organized, more or less corresponds with that of the Common Market.

Next January both blocs are scheduled to make another internal tariff reduction. This will happen regardless of whether Britain joins the Common Market or not.

A big issue yet to be resolved would could beneficially affect American companies is the status of the Commonwealth countries.

Prime Minister Macmillan said some new arrangement would be sought that would leave the Commonwealth countries not worse off and not bearing the brunt of the price for Britain's membership.

If Britain's Commonwealth preference were ended, this could mean opportunities for American companies, since they would be competing on an equal footing with Britain in such countries as Canada, Australia, New Zealand.

A EUROPEAN UNION might spur efforts in trade unions in the Western Hemisphere. Already Central American and South American countries are working in this direction as two blocs.

Recently Neal McElroy, chairman of Procter & Gamble and former defense secretary, called for a trade union between the United States and Canada. His was only the latest of a number of voices raised to espouse this idea.

But it is somewhat doubtful that the Canadians would agree at the present time out of a fear their youthful unprotected industry, would be swallowed by the colossus to the South.

Britain has always been one of America's biggest customers and there is little reason to expect this position would be changed measurably if it gains admittance to the Common Market.

The economic revolution now underway in Europe has been anticipated not only by American companies with European investments, but by American banks and individual investors as well.

Big Test In Congress

By James Marlow

Kennedy Legislation Faces Trouble

WASHINGTON

President Kennedy's biggest tests in dealing with Congress come in the next few weeks.

So far he has relied heavily on President Eisenhower's method of avoiding temper tantrums on either side. He has done pretty well.

But his programs which Congress approved have been fairly conservative and, in the main, noncontroversial.

The real tough ones — foreign aid, federal aid to education and medical care for the aged — are in serious trouble. The medical care bill is in such distress it looks dead for 1961.

Kennedy has given the impression of more determined follow-through than Eisenhower, although whether this is true will be shown in the way he handles himself with Congress from now on.

Eisenhower from the beginning acted as though his White House leadership job were to keep down conflict, not only abroad but at home.

This may be considered in the end his greatest contribution. When he took over the country was split by McCarthyism and all that implied: harshness and suspicion.

Eisenhower sweated it out, stayed calm, kept hands off, and in the end Sen. McCarthy destroyed himself politically.

But this business of staying above the strife in dealing with Congress—when important legislation runs into serious opposition — could be and was at times fatal.

Kennedy has worked hard in two directions to get Congress to go along with him:

1. Through his staff members who maintain constant and personal contact with the senators and representatives.

2. Through his own direct contacts with them — White House conferences, White House breakfasts, telephone calls.

Always, however, he has avoided even minor personal unpleasantities with members of Congress, at least in public.

He has obtained approval for one piece of legislation after another although, as mentioned, almost none of it was of the kind to bring on filibusters or frenzies.

In fact, the one piece of legislation which might have induced a filibuster—civil rights — he very carefully never sent to Congress at all, even though he had promised in the 1960 campaign to make this one of his earliest efforts with Congress in 1961.

The medical care program — after various assaults from within and without Congress, particularly from the American Medical Association—seems to have disappeared for this year in a congressional pigeonhole marked: "Rest in peace."

Kennedy can't claim he exhausted himself fighting for this one. On the other hand, he reportedly has decided to make a last ditch stand for his foreign aid bill.

His recent TV talk on trouble with communism over Berlin—in which he stressed danger and asked for stepped-up defense — may have helped make passage of the foreign aid bill easier.

He has appeared far from aggressive in defense of his aid to education bill whose prospects for passage don't look bright.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I spent a couple hours inspecting the ant hill today. I mean the big ant hill—that is — always leaves me feeling thoughtful.

My favorite time for this is when the ants are starting to stir up another day's activity, in the early morning. They come out of their nooks and crannies, nibble a little food and scurry away in their little chariots.

I get a kick out of this. Each ant thinks what he is scurrying to do is pretty darned important. And to him, of course, it really is important, because this is how he aims to keep eating. And what could be more important than that?

But to me, a dispassionate observer of all the scurrying, it is pretty darned amusing because even the biggest ant in the ant hill never will be missed when he finally scurries off to the big ant hill up yonder and leaves a vacant place at the table that some other ant is waiting to fill.

I am not meaning to be morbid. I am meaning only to take a long view of what goes on in the ant hill.

I cannot imagine what so many ants do to keep busy all day. In my time, I have visited factories, mills, offices, work camps, farms, truck gardens and so on. I have seen most of the things that keep ants busy when we work. Still, the thought of enough things for 70 million ants in our own hill to do each day, plus enough to bizzify the ants in all the other hills floors me.

I can only conclude that most of the things ants do aren't any more important than the things I do, on the assumption I am a typical member of the hill. Whole days pass, believe me, when what I do isn't worth the scurrying. And as a matter of fact I don't scurry much; I leave that up to your aunt, who's the scurrying type.

Anyway, after whatever the big ants do has been done for another day, they scurry back to where they started from, nibble a little more food, sit around wobbling their heads and flexing their ligaments for a while, then curl up in nooks and crannies for a little rest.

They have accomplished no more and no less in proportion than the little ants have accomplished in the same length of time. Both have made a few hairs of difference on the face of the earth — piled up a little rubble here and excavated a little there.

Maybe they've stirred up a little trouble and a few ants have got into a biting contest, with a view to killing each other. They've lugged around some egg cases, bored a few tunnels, nothing really important — all in a day's work.

Some ants are full of energy, some aren't. There are fighting ants and I'm told, even ants that run dairy herds. You can bet that every ant, though, whatever he does is impressed with the importance of what he's doing and is sure in his own little mind and heart he isn't being appreciated.

And I suppose all the boss ants are sure things aren't as good as they should be and would be if everybody was as smart as boss ants are reputed to be. This ant-hill inspection — the big ant hill, that is — always leaves me feeling thoughtful.

"Go to the ant, thou sluggard," it says in Proverbs I. So I keep going, but I am not sure I learn what I am supposed to learn. What I always conclude is that the diligence of small ants magnified into the diligence of big ants makes us see ourselves backward, as though we were looking through the wrong end of a telescope. And what happens to me is that I can't get myself into a scurrying mood again for a fortnight, which is dangerous, considering the fact I watch real ant hills all summer and have one of those ant exhibits between two panes of glass that I watch all winter.

This could account for my reputation as a worthless, clean old man.

Your aunt has just scurried in to tell me she wants something carried upstairs.

Regards to you and your antlings. Cotton Corners UNCLE GEORGE

Europe Hails Orbit, Weighs Implications

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe today cheered the scientific accomplishment of Maj. Gherman Titov's space flight. Some voiced fears the Soviet Union will use it as a military weapon. Others considered it a normal development that should cause no undue alarm.

The flight only hours before Premier Khrushchev was to make a major radio address was widely assumed to have been timed to bolster the threats to West Berlin expected from the Soviet premier.

The political implications did not detract from the fulsome praise for Soviet scientific genius and a widespread feeling that the Soviet Union is well ahead of the United States in the race to the moon.

Britain's top space watcher, Sir Bernard Lovell, warned: "I am far from being pro-Russian in the political sense—the contrary. But I think one of the greatest dangers in the world today is to doubt their strength in science and technology."

Lovell, director of the giant radio telescope at Jodrell Bank in northern England, called Titov's flight "another important step in the Russian plan to populate the solar system beginning with the invasion of the moon in a few years' time."

Britain's most widely read columnist, Cassandra of the Daily Mirror, noted Khrushchev is speaking tonight and summed up what many feared:

"The tragedy of this magnificent feat, with the Russians peering down in orbit over London and Washington and riding the heavens as no living being has ever done before, is that the wonder and greatness of it is deliberately timed to intimidate the West and to hearten and encourage the Communist world to new acts of aggression."

Titov's flight came with Britain and most of Europe enjoying an August holiday. Millions kept their ears tuned to their radios for news of the space man's progress.

One British Nobel prizewinning physicist, Sir George Thomson, took the new Soviet achievement calmly. "This thing has been done once," he said, "and to do it several times is not all that difficult if you have done it once. We should thank the Russians for arranging it on a holiday."

Norway's Socialist government organ, Arbeiderbladet, posed this question:

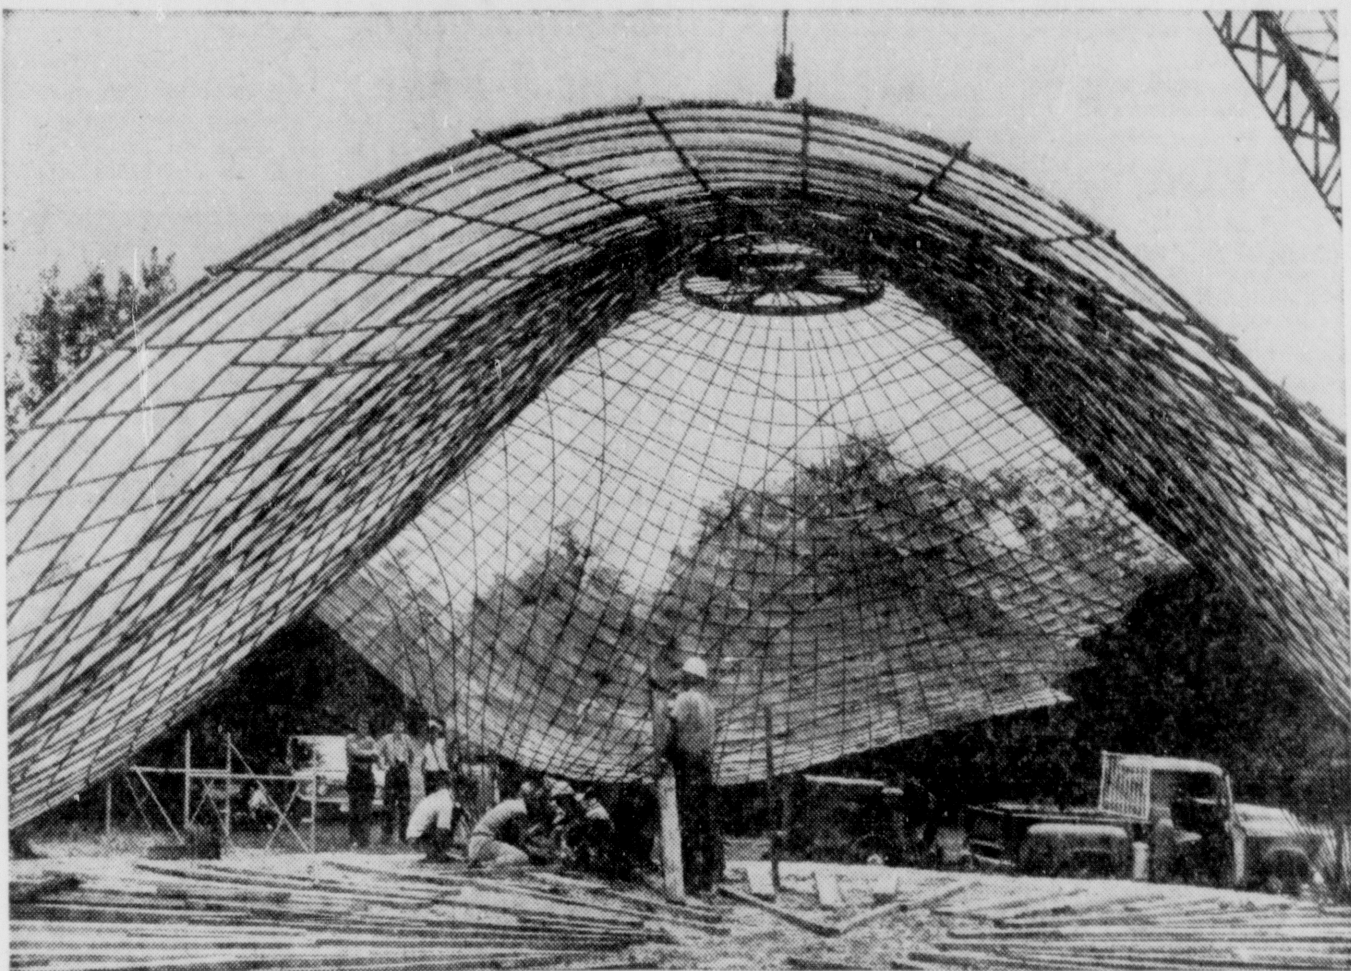

"What the whole world asks about is not only how fast the conquest of space will take place, but if this fantastic development will be used in the military power struggle for the good of all. Today the Russians are ahead. Will they use this lead for increased military pressure?"

In West Germany, the conservative Frankfurter Allgemeine said: "The Russian feat is astounding but it need not terrify the fascinated spectators in the West, although that is just what it is supposed to do."

The independent Frankfurter Rundschau emphasized "the lucky return of Titov will provide the appropriate background" for Khrushchev's speech tonight and declared: "The flight of the Vostok is not only a technological and physiological event. It is also a political and military one. Because Khrushchev was able to shoot a man 17 times around the earth, he is also able to shoot around the earth anything he wants."

Parents To Meet

SALINEVILLE — Plans for the final day of the season will be discussed at a meeting of parents of all Little League players Tuesday night at 8 in the cafeteria of the high school. Lloyd Meister is president.

NET PURPOSE. Raising the roof serves a serious purpose as the ceiling of the world's first "lift-shape" building is raised to its proper height at College Station, Tex. The project, designed by Professor James H. Marsh III, has been developed as a demonstration of metal lath versatility.

Fisher Plant Recalls 900 To Resume Work

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Fisher Body-Euclid plant of General Motors Corp. today began recall of 900 production workers furloughed the last two weeks because of annual model changeover and inventory.

A company spokesman said full production of 1962 model bodies will start by Aug. 23. Station wagon and convertible bodies are assembled at the plant.

The spokesman said return of the Fisher employees completes the recall of GM hourly workers idled in the Cleveland area as a result of the changeover. The Parma plant called back 5,000 employees last Monday.

Singer Callas Hailed By Critics In Greece

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Maria Callas was in rare singing and acting form Sunday night, Athens music critics ruled today. She appeared in Cherubini's opera, "Medea."

More than 17,000 were present to hear her in the ancient open air theater of Epidaurus, 100 miles from Athens.

"Callas' interpretation was not only superb in voice but in acting as well," said one critic.

U.S. Eyes Manned Orbit Launching Early In '62

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, abashed though it may be at the Soviet Union's newest manned satellite triumph, is moving ahead with a program that could place a Mercury astronaut in orbit by next December or January.

The NASA plans to attempt within a month to launch an unmanned Mercury spacecraft into orbit, and then bring it back to earth again.

Officials said the Mercury program—which has sent astronauts Alan Shepard and Virgil Grissom on 15-minute suborbital rocket flights—is moving forward as rapidly as possible.

George M. Low, chief of NASA's manned flight program, said Sunday the Soviet feat had been anticipated by U.S. space officials, but probably could not be duplicated by this country for "quite some time."

The attempt expected this month to orbit an unmanned Mercury capsule would employ an Atlas rocket more than four times as powerful as the Redstone used in the Shepard and Grissom flights.

If the craft is launched successfully and recovered after one or more orbits, the next Mercury-Atlas shot—according to present plans—would have a chimpanzee aboard.

Only after the effects on the animal have been observed does NASA plan to risk a human life. The manned orbital flight is still on the agency's calendar for late this year, but officials privately have been dubious that it could be achieved before early 1962.

Low said the United States has more ambitious plans for its Apollo program, which would follow Mercury. Apollo is designed to land at least one man and possibly three on the moon "within the decade." The Apollo capsule is not yet built.

Another NASA official, Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr., said NASA hopes to launch the first manned Apollo vehicle in late 1964 or early 1965. The mission would be to launch up to three men at a time in the capsule, which would make a prolonged orbit about the earth, with a maximum of two weeks.

Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, head of the U.S. military space effort, said after Russian cosmonaut Gherman Titov reportedly landed safely that the flight was "quite a feat."

But Schriever said it was to be expected in view of Soviet achievements to date.

NASA officials had no immediate comment on the Russian report that Titov had been recovered safely and indicated it may have none.

'Meanwhile, Back On The Old Mississippi'

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — "We're making a slow start to the moon."

This statement, made in jest by an official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration had a touch of irony in it today.

While three of the four major components of this nation's moon-shot rocket—the Saturn—were slowly floating down the Mississippi River in a barge, the world was congratulating the Soviet Union on its manned second-orbital flight.

The Saturn booster aboard the barge was developed at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala. Its size—82 feet high and 22 feet in diameter—prohibited transportation except by water.

While the rocket in flight will reach speeds up to five times the speed of sound, it is being carried to a rendezvous with missile testers in Cape Canaveral, Fla., at the painfully slow pace of around 10 miles an hour.

The 2,200-mile trip which began early Saturday morning, is expected to take at least two weeks.

Present plans call for testing the first stage, with dummy second and third stages and inert nose cone on top, later this year.

Titov Called Self 'Eagle' During Orbit

MOSCOW (AP) — "I am an eagle."

That's how Soviet spaceman Maj. Gherman Stepanovich Titov described himself as he whirled in orbit around the globe.

Son of a retired Siberian school teacher, Titov 26, is a year younger than his "great friend" Maj. Yuri Gagarin, who made the first space flight.

Titov's picture, flashed on Soviet television, showed him to be a handsome, wavy-haired pilot with lines of humor on an intelligent face.

His father, Stepan Pavlovich Titov, described his son as "obedient and industrious" with an enthusiasm for anything aeronautical since childhood.

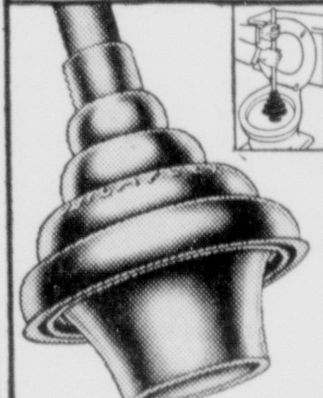

"He liked to make things, especially to build model aircraft and to launch gliders," the elder Titov said. "Gherman used to read a lot, and like all boys of his age was keen on adventure stories."

"We wanted him to go to a university, but he decided to become a pilot and his dream came true."

The youthful spaceman was born in the village of Verkhneye Zhulino, in western Siberia.

New Caledonia is located about 1,000 miles due east of Australia.

fidant administration forces can scuttle a proposal by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., to require annual congressional appropriations for a proposed $8.8 billion development loan fund.

President Kennedy asked for five-year authority to finance such loans through Treasury borrowing, a method which would bypass congressional control of the pursestrings in future years. Loan authority of $1,187,000,000 for the first year is included in the pending bill.

Byrd made no victory claims in a separate interview. He said only that he believes the critical vote will be close and he has a chance of winning it.

Ex-Grocer Operated 'Basketeria' In 1917

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP) — Retired grocer Myron E. Betts figures he must have run one of the world's first self-service markets. It was back in 1917 and Betts called it his "basketeria."

"We just placed two dozen half-bushel baskets by the front door," he says. "The idea went over big from the start."

Betts, now 83, says the idea was to make things easier for his wife, who was running the store.

"I had only one customer averse to the idea," he says. "One prominent lady said she'd feel like a thief in the store helping herself. She threatened to take her trade elsewhere unless I waited on her, so I did."

There was no damage to the Johnston car while the left front fender of the Vocia auto was damaged, officers said.

Johnston was headed east and turning north while Vocia was traveling west and also making a north turn when the collision occurred, police said.

Two others in the 1961 compact, which had only 531 miles on it, were treated. Mrs. Esther Hays of Beaver, the driver, received a bruised leg, and Mrs. Martha Lindsay of Glenfield Farms, Beaver, contusions of the right arm and forehead.

Township police said Mrs. Hays saw an oncoming car and thought she was being crowded off the road.

Police said she veered to the left and tried to go to the right then the auto hit a 3-foot bank and bounced back and upset.

There was about $1,000 damage to the car.

reported that East Berlin's biggest department store, run by the state, is taking on salesgirls who used to work in West Berlin.

Poor service in shops, due largely to lack of sales help, is a cause of complaint in all Communist countries—especially East Germany.

Refugees are still coming in large numbers from Communist East Germany, though the flow ebbed in comparison with last weekend. Between 8 a.m. Saturday and Monday at the same time, there were 2,740 who registered in West Berlin.

The figure was 3,158 for the same period last week. Additional hundreds are flown out to West Germany every day without registration.

Camp authorities said many of the refugees are commuters and their families.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt warned Soviet Premier Khrushchev Sunday night not to let East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht push him into taking drastic action on Berlin.

"Form your own opinions of the Berlin situation," Brandt said in a broadcast remark aimed at Khrushchev, "so you will recognize into what kind of a predicament Ulbricht can bring you if you don't."

He declared Khrushchev was playing with fire if he follows Ulbricht's advice and signs a separate peace treaty which would give the East Germans control over supply routes to West Berlin.

India Adopts New 5-Year Growth Plan

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government today set forth its third five-year plan, designed to boost the per capita income in this poverty-plagued nation from the present $69.30 a year to $80.85 by 1966.

The 774-page plan presented to Parliament contains the most sober analysis Prime Minister Nehru's government has yet presented of successes and failures under its two previous development plans.

It scaled down some goals, such as the previous hope that the per capita income for India's 438 million people would reach $83.16.

The plan also postponed the target date when India expects to stand on its own feet in economic development. It said that by the end of the fifth five-year plan in 1976, India will be able to progress without foreign aid. The government had once expressed hope it would reach this goal in 1966. Later it moved the date to 1971.

Pinpointing the rapidly expanding population as a factor seriously retarding the rise in the standard of living, Nehru's government said "special efforts should be made to reduce the rate at

Jury Continues Kentucky Probe

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A federal grand jury today was to continue its meetings on Northern Kentucky vice conditions and alleged police ties.

The panel had not been expected to resume work for another two or three weeks, but was called back. Federal officials have been tight-lipped on whether some indictments would be voted or whether new witnesses would be heard.

The jury's probe is an outgrowth of the May 9 vice arrest of George Ratterman, former professional football player and reform candidate for Campbell County sheriff. During its probe, the grand jury has heard some 35 witnesses, including several Newport detectives who made the raid, employees of the Glenn Hotel where Ratterman and a strip tease dancer were found, and several people associated with the wide-open night life in Newport, directly across the Ohio River from Cincinnati. During the trial, Ratterman claimed he was framed and was cleared of the charges.

Court Fines Trio On Guilty Pleas

Three men arrested early Saturday morning on disorderly conduct charges escaped with fines this morning in Municipal Court because Judge Samuel M. Chertoff said he didn't have the facts in the case.

Joseph Edward Wooley, 321 Garfield St., and Herbert Virgil Melott of Gaston Pl. were charged with disorderly conduct by using indecent and profane language while Franklin Landis Thorne, 935 Dresden Ave., was cited for being loud and boisterous. All three pleaded guilty.

Warning the men they might have gone to jail if he had been furnished information on the case, Judge Chertoff decreed fines of $10 and costs each.

The three were arrested at 3:01 a. m. Saturday at Broadway and Drury Ln. by Patrolman Paul Carter. The officer was not present when the judge sought some facts about the arrests.

George A. McCormack of R. D. 2 also was fined $10 and costs on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was arrested at 5 a. m. Saturday at Peterson and Campground Rds. by Liverpool Township Constable Clifford Owens.

Cincinnati Still Owns Unique Railroad Link

CINCINNATI — Because Cincinnatians of the 1860's wanted to maintain the city's claim to being the Gateway to the South, Cincinnati is the only Ohio city — and perhaps the only city in the nation — to operate a railroad.

The Ohio General Assembly authorized the city to build a railroad south to Chattanooga, Tenn., a century ago because the riverboat was fading from the scene.

The city still owns it under the name Cincinnati Southern Railroad System. It is operated under a 99-year lease by the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway.

The line winds through some of the nation's most rugged country and its curving tracks, steep grades and other challenges have produced a number of railroad legends.

Harper signed a complaint against Ludington, charging him with assault and battery and using profane language. Ludington charged Harper with assault and battery. # Blue Sky Covers Most Of Country

By The Associated Press
There were some wet spots in the South and West but generally pleasant weather prevailed in most of the nation today.

Skies were clear in most of the midwest, the Ohio Valley, wide areas of the Great Lakes and the middle and upper Atlantic Coast. Some light rain fell in parts of western New York.

A violent storm hit southern Oklahoma Sunday, with heavy rain and strong winds causing heavy damage. Two boys, aged 7 and 11, were killed by lightning while they slept in a tent on the shore of Ft. Cobb Reservoir about 125 miles northwest of Oklahoma City. Winds up to 100 m.p.h. damaged or sank more than 60 boats on Lake Texoma, on the Oklahoma-Texas border.

Rep. Cook Advocates Unhasty Cuban Action

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rep. Robert E. Cook, D-Ohio, says the United States should not be too hasty in advocating strong action against Cuba for stealing U.S. airplanes.

Cook, appearing on a television program Sunday in which viewers telephoned in questions, said more planes have been stolen from Cuba and landed in this country than vice versa.

He said he does not advocate going to war over a particular plane, but does want steps taken to prevent airplanes from being hijacked.

'Old Rocking Chairs' Keep Her On The Go

MACOMB, Ill. — Rocking chair lore is as old as the hills, but for Trudi Alessi it's a new and interesting hobby.

"America's tremendous might was built by men who rocked gently on their front porches," she said.

She backs up her theory by citing the rocker in Abraham Lincoln's Springfield, Ill., house (which doesn't have a front porch).

Assignment editor for the Western Illinois University campus paper, she has corresponded with rocking chair owners over the state in an effort to find the oldest.

One owned by Mrs. Paul Lambert of LaSalle, Ill., is wrought with iron fittings and dates to about 1776. Her grandmother brought it to Illinois from Pennsylvania.

Pour corn meal mush into a loaf pan and chill; slice and brown slowly in fat. Serve for lunch with a creole-type tomato sauce and crisp bacon.

Midland Bride, Husband Establish Home In Beaver

Following a honeymoon motor trip through Southeastern Pennsylvania and Delaware, Mr. and Mrs. James Equels, newlyweds, are residing in Beaver.

Mrs. Equels, the former Miss Nancy Beglin, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston J. Beglin of Ohio Ave., Midland, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Equels of West Bridgewater.

The United Presbyterian Church in West Bridgewater was the scene of the nuptials July 15 at 3:30 o'clock, with the Rev. James St. Clair officiating for the double-ring ceremony. Vases of white gladioli and ferns with two seven-branched candelabras adorned the altar. The family pews were marked with white satin bows and ribbons.

David Wiley of Ellwood City, cousin of the bride, gave a recital of traditional wedding melodies at the organ and Mrs. Kenneth Caldwell of New Brighton was vocalist.

The cabbage rose hat of silk organza, trimmed with pearls, held a full bouffant bubble veil of imported silk illusion. She wore sheer nylon mitts edged with scalloped flower appliques.

She carried a Rainbow Bible with a white orchid, stephanotis and ivy bouquets tied with white satin streamers and lovers knots. Her single strand of pearls was a gift of the bridegroom. All familiar traditions were observed.

For her going-away outfit, the bride wore a light green sheath dress with a tunic skirt and white summer jewelry.

Mrs. John W. Hall of Midland, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a short-length gown of white chantilly lace over white silk organza fashioned with a round neckline, a fitted bodice and short sleeves. A bow was attached to the waist in back with streamers extending to the hemline. Her headpiece was a white silk organza flower with an illusion veil. She carried a white fan of red carnations with white ribbon streamers.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. William Hulme of Midland Heights, Mrs. Raymond Grosskopf of Beaver and Miss Ruth Beglin of Mercer, niece of the bride. They were attired in gowns identical to that of the matron of honor. They carried fans with red carnations and red streamers.

Miss Elizabeth Collins of Olympia Fields, Ill., niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The attendants received white lace gloves and pearl earrings from the bride.

5 Children Hurt As Ride Topples

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—Five children in a spinning amusement ride were injured Sunday when it toppled and they fell 10 to 15 feet to the ground.

Robert Cedoz, 4, was taken to Magruder Hospital with possible internal injuries, multiple cuts and bruises.

Treated at the hospital for minor cuts and bruises were Frederick Cedoz, 7, brother of Robert; Gloria Simon, 16; Cheryl Schiewe, 15, and her sister, Mary, 14.

The three girls were seated on one side of the ride and the boys on the other when it turned over. They were the only occupants.

Police said the ride—a Chair-O-Plane—has seating compartments, but no guy wires or other device to hold it steady.

Ray Oswald of Findlay, operator of the ride, told police he did not witness the accident because he had just gone after another child who was attempting to crawl under a bar in front of the entrance of the ride.

The accident occurred at the annual festival of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church.

Tribe Can Play Key Role In Games With Leaders

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are too far behind to entertain any hope of winning the American League pennant, but they are in a position to play an important role in the outcome of the tight race between the front-running New York Yankees and the second-place Detroit Tigers.

The Tribe split a doubleheader with the Tigers in Detroit Sunday, losing the opener, 2-1, but bouncing back in the nightcap, 9-5 to snap a five-game losing streak. The loss put Detroit 2½ games behind the Yankees, who swept a pair from Minnesota.

Cleveland has three games remaining with the Tigers, all at home, and nine against the Yankees. Five of the New York games will be in Yankee Stadium, where the Indians have not won a game this year.

The Indians have a 3-6 record against the Yankees and are 3-10 against the Tigers.

Southpaw Don Mossi (12-2), former Cleveland pitcher held the Indians hitless for 6 2-3 innings in the opener. The only Tribe runner on base during that time was John Romano, who drew a walk in the second inning.

Bubba Phillips, a former Tiger, ruined Mossi's no-hit bid with a solid single to left field in the seventh. Chuck Essegian followed with another single to left. The only other hit the Indians got was Willie Kirkland's 22nd home run in the eighth, which ruined Mossi's shutout.

Jim Perry (8-10) was nearly as effective for the Indians, giving up only five hits in the seven innings he worked.

Billy Bruton had a hand in both Tiger runs, scoring the first in the opening inning and driving in the other with a single in the seventh.

The Indians pounced on five Detroit pitchers for 13 hits in the nightcap to back up Jim Grant (11-5), who yielded 10 hits in going the distance.

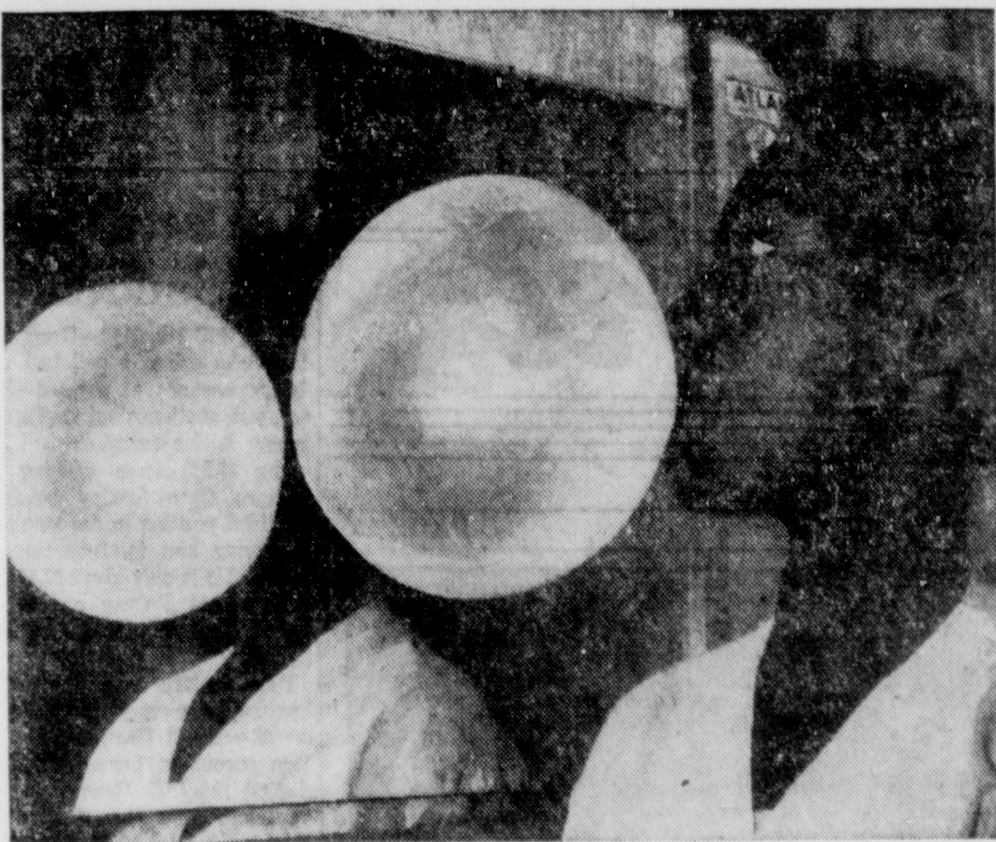

Tito Francona led the attack with a home run, a double and a single, scoring three runs and driving in two. Don Dillard also homered for the Indians.

Paul Foytack was knocked out in the first inning by Francona's and Dillard's solo homers, but the Tigers tied it up in the second on a single, a triple and an error.

In the fourth, the Tribe took a 4-2 lead on an error and three singles. Bruton's triple and a sacrifice fly by Al Kaline pulled the Tigers close in the fifth.

Francona and Kirkland greeted Hank Aguirre with doubles in the seventh and then Aguirre let a bunt by Phillips trickle between his legs. The Indians added a sacrifice fly, a walk and two more hits and scored four runs before Fred Gladding, the fifth Tiger pitcher, could stop them.

The Indians are idle today, but will open a 15-game home stand Tuesday night in the opener of a two-game series with the Washington Senators.

Arab Soldiers Slated As Guards In Kuwait

DAMASCUS (AP) — An Arab League force of 2,500 to 5,000 men will be ready to replace British troops in Kuwait late this month or early next month, reliable sources reported today.

The informants said the size of the force depends on talks in Kuwait today between an Arab League military mission and the ruler of the oil-rich sheikdom, Sheikh Abdullah as-Salim as-Sabah.

The mission stopped off in Saudi Arabia Sunday night to discuss the position of Saudi Arabian forces sent to the sheikdom after Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem threatened to annex it.

Lemon juice is fine to add to a French dressing that is to be served with a fruit salad. For vegetable salad you can use a dressing made with half lemon juice and half vinegar, if you like.

Joe Brown, Pitt Ace, Captures Tennis Tournament Here

Youngstown Netter Bows In Final Duel

By CHUCK CRONIN

Defending champions were unthrilled as the second annual tennis tournament of the East Liverpool Lions Club concluded under sunny skies Sunday afternoon at Thompson Park.

With favorable weather prevailing for the three-day playoffs and an unusually strong field of competitors, the tourney ended on a highly successful note and sparked talk of a "bigger and better" event next summer.

Joe Brown, 20-year-old University of Pittsburgh junior, won the singles championship in a well-played match with Jollis (Chic) Welcher of Youngstown, 6-4, 6-2.

Was Seeded No. 3

The new singles champion was seeded No. 3 in the field and is rated one of the top performers in the Ohio-Pennsylvania area. He was the No. 1 man on Pitt's team the past season that compiled an 11-3 record, best in the school's history.

Blending his "cannonball" serve with skillful defensive play, Brown held sway over Welcher in a gruelling final match to capture the singles championship and a huge trophy for his efforts.

Welcher, 33, a food inspector in Youngstown, drew comment for his fluid motion and unorthodox serves in reaching the finals after a stamina-draining day of five matches. A graduate of Youngstown University, Welcher was seeded No. 4 in the field of 36 entries.

Brown succeeds Amedeo Dinardo of Sharon as singles champion. Dinardo was eliminated in the quarter finals by Harold Matheison, 6-2, 5-7 and 12-10.

Win Doubles Crown

The doubles championship went to a duo of Ray Vens, 27, sophomore of Kent State University and a Warren resident, and John Boliver, 36, of Greenville, Pa.

Vens and Boliver defeated Ed Morris, 45, and Bob Thompson, 38, both of Youngstown, 6-0, 3-6, and 6-4 in the finals.

Though East Liverpool area entries never got past the opening round, the tourney was termed "very successful" by Laurin Stacey, director, and Jack Smith, co-director, of the Lions Club.

"The tournament did a lot to advance the sport in this area, especially among the younger set, some who practically lived here (Thompson Park) on the weekend to watch it," Stacey commented.

"Though local players didn't advance, chances are good that they learned a few things from some of the outstanding players that performed," Stacey pointed out.

Three Pitt Players Complete

Stacey said the field was one of the strongest for any tourney in the Tri-State area, and included three of Pitt's top four players.

Size of the trophies that were awarded also drew favorable comment from the recipients as they were much larger than awarded elsewhere, Stacey said.

In addition to five local entries, fans were afforded a chance to see in action Dave Hunter of Salem, who was an All-Ohio basketball choice two years back. Hunter lost to Welcher Sunday afternoon.

A gallery of about 70 saw most of the semi-final and final action during the afternoon.

Here are the weekend scores compiled by the tournament directors:

Saturday: first round completion — Yarnell over R. Mason Jr., 6-0, 7-5; Welcher over Fleischer, 6-1, 6-2; A. Dinardo over C. Darnay, 6-0, 6-0; R. Mason over Mitchell, 6-0, 6-0; Matheison over Barker, 6-1, 6-3; Eichenlaub over Stacey, 6-3, 6-0; Joe Brown over James, 6-0, 6-1.

Second round — Garver over Young, 6-2, 6-0; Dave Hunter over Barth, 6-0, 6-0; Boliver over O'Laughlin, 6-3, 7-5; Welcher over Yarnell, 6-2; 3-6, 6-2; Dinardo over R. Mason, default, 2-6, 7-5; Matheson over Vens, 7-5, 5-7, 6-2; Dupay over Eichenlaub, 6-3, 6-0; Brown over Yanow, 6-0, 6-1.

Second round: Vens-Boliver over P. Morris-Young, 6-3, 6-4; Ed Morris-Thompson over Yanow-Passic, 6-0, 6-0; Welcher-Garver over Barth-Dinardo, 6-3, 6-4, 3-6.

Eastern Won By Sanders

BALTIMORE (AP)—Doug Sanders, who drives a golf ball with the appearance of a wood chopper, was another giant step up the money ladder today.

The $5,300 from winning the Eastern Open Sunday bolstered his third position in the standings by giving him total earnings of $49,016. He is only about $7,500 behind Arnold Palmer and $11,500 shy of the golf winnings of Gary Player.

The Eastern was the fourth tournament victory this year for the 28-year-old Georgian. He has been second in three events, including the U.S. Open.

Sanders took the Eastern by knocking a total of 13 strokes off par for the 6,820-yard Pine Ridge course. His score was 275.

He won by a stroke when Ken Venturi failed to make a five-foot putt for a birdie four on the last hole after coming out of a sand trap.

Mantle Raps Three More As Yankees Boost Their Lead

New Yorkers Take Two As Detroit Splits

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees, aided by Mickey Mantle's three home runs, swept a doubleheader from Minnesota Sunday to increase their American League lead over Detroit to 2½ games.

Mantle hit his 41st and 42nd homers of the season in the first game, won by the Yankees 7-6 in 15 innings. Mickey slammed his 43rd in the nightcap, then scored the winning run after a base on balls in the Yankees' second-game 3-2 triumph.

Detroit split with Cleveland, winning the first game 2-1 and losing the second 9-5. Chicago's White Sox won two from Washington, 5-4 and 3-2. Boston beat Kansas City 4-2 in the first game, but the Athletics won the second 1-0 for a split. Baltimore led Los Angeles 3-1 in the third inning when rain forced postponement of the game.

The Yankees socked four home runs but it took an infield out to drive in the final run in the opener and a single in the ninth to win the second game. Bobby Richardson scored the winning run in the 15th inning of the first game. Bobby singled off Ray Moore, moved to second on a bunt single by Clete Boyer, to third on Roger Maris' long fly and scored when Yogi Berra hit into a force play at second base.

The Twins had gone ahead 6-5 on Bill Tuttle's 10th inning homer off Whitey Ford but the Yankees tied the score in their half when John Blanchard homered off Bill Pleis. Ford went out for a pinch hitter in the 10th, failing for the second time in his bid for 20 victories.

Boyer singled home Mantle with the winning run in the ninth of the finale. Mickey had drawn a pass from starter and loser Al Schroll, moved to second on Elie Howard's single, and to third on a force play. Roland Sheldon went all the way for his eighth victory.

Don Mossi hurled a three-hitter for the Tigers to win his 12th against two defeats. Center fielder Bill Bruton scored the first Tiger run and drove in the second. Tito Francona paced the Indians' 13-hit attack in the second game with a home run, double and single. He scored three runs and drove in two.

Washington rallied in the ninth inning of both games to draw even but errors gave the White Sox both victories. After ninth inning homers by Gene Woodling and Dale Long tied the first game, 4-4, Washington third baseman Danny O'Connell fumbled a grounder to allow Nellie Fox to score the winning run for the White Sox. Long homered again in the ninth of the second game to tie the Sox at 2-2, but shortstop Coot Veal's bad throw gave the Sox the winning run in their half of the inning.

Jim Archer pitched a three-hit shutout to give the A's a split with Boston. Boston won the opener on the fine relief pitching of Chet Nichols and a 12-hit Red Sox attack.

Los Angeles Leads Again By One Point

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Los Angeles may beat out Cincinnati for the National League pennant as a majority of the experts have been so freely predicting, but the Reds are showing no signs of folding.

The Dodgers inched to the top Sunday by one percentage point, defeating the Chicago Cubs 11-4, but the Reds managed to cling to a half-game lead, earning a split with Pittsburgh. After losing the first game 9-4 and trailing late in the second game, the Reds fought back to win 3-2 on Vada Pinson's 10th inning home run.

A week ago, the Reds dropped into second place, a full game behind the Dodgers, whom they once led by six games. It was thought then that the Reds had had it. Instead of continuing their tailspin, Cincinnati won six of the next eight.

In other National League games, St. Louis swept a double-header from Philadelphia 3-1 and 3-2 while San Francisco edged out Milwaukee 4-3.

Pittsburgh pounded Cincinnati's Joey Jay and Jim Maloney for 10 hits in the opener, including home runs by Roberto Clemente and Hoak and bases-loaded singles by Dick Groat and Bill Virdon. The Pirates led 2-1 in the eighth of the second game when Pinson singled, stole second and scored on Gordy Coleman's single. Pinson's game-winning homer in the 10th came off reliever Elroy Face.

Big Frank Howard and little Maury Wills paced the Dodgers' 12-hit attack against three Chicago pitchers. Howard had a homer, triple and double and drove in four runs. Wills had three hits including the first homer in his three-year career in the majors and scored four times. Johnny Podres won his 14th against three defeats.

Matty Alou drove in two runs with a single and a home run as the Giants regained third place from Milwaukee. Juan Marichal won his third straight despite 14 Braves' hits and needed help from Stu Miller. The Giants' ace reliever struck out Frank Bolling in the ninth with the tying and winning runs on base.

Ray Sadecki, St. Louis' 20-year-old southpaw, pitched a four-hitter in the Cards' first game victory over Philadelphia and cracked a three-run bases-loaded double. Catcher Carl Sawatski was the batting star of the second game. He hit a pinch homer in the seventh with one on to tie the score and singled with the bases loaded in the ninth to give the Cards a double triumph.

The little bit of steel cost the U.S. challenger Miss Detroit a chance to stay with Canada's Miss Supertest III in Saturday's opener of the best-of-three race for international powerboating supremacy. The screw-type oil fitting sheered off and was crushed to uselessness.

Supertest, by winning the second race late today would become the first boat to win three Harmsworths since the race was inaugurated in 1903. Because of past performances the power-packed Canadian is heavily favored to do just that.

Canadian Craft Heavy Favorite To Keep Trophy

PICTON, Ont. (AP)—A three-quarter-inch piece of threaded metal that costs a dime had the United States facing a formidable task today in its quest to recapture the Harmsworth Trophy.

Bucs And Reds Split; Jay Worries Manager

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cincinnati Reds has another wrinkle in his brow.

One reason is his club dropped the leadership in the National League pennant race to Los Angeles by one percentage point when it divided a doubleheader Sunday with Pittsburgh.

The other is Joey Jay, his star pitcher, who, with 15 victories, lost his seventh in the first game with the world champion Pirates Sunday in Cincinnati 9-4.

Relief pitcher Jim Brosnan, taking over for Jim O'Toole in the eighth, was the winning pitcher in the second game. The score was 3-2 in 10 innings.

Hutchinson said Jay is not using his fine fast ball to advantage and this is the reason for part of his concern.

Since his fast ball was given the works in San Francisco on the last West Coast trip, Hutch said the big righthander has been wary of using it.

The Pirates got six hits off Jay, including Roberto Clemente's 18th homer of the season. Those safeties, plus some ragged Redleg fielding, gave Vinegar Bend Mizell his fifth victory against eight defeats. Jim Maloney replaced Jay in the sixth.

The 31,167 Cincinnati fans got their thrills in the first game when Gene Freese and Wally Post hit consecutive home runs in the fourth inning. The Reds' other runs came in the sixth on a two-run single by pinchhitter Jerry Lynch.

Clemente, the league's leading hitter batting at a .371 pace, made five hits in nine times at bat in the twin bill, and continued to harass the Reds in the second contest. Two of his three hits in that game were in the infield.

Earl Francis had a 2-0 lead in the second game when the Reds cracked into the scoring column in the sixth on a single, a double and shortstop Dick Groat's error. The Pirates had scored a run in the fourth on a double by Bill Mazeroski and a single by catcher Hal Smith. They made their second run in the fifth on an error, Clemente's infield safety and a fielder's choice.

Cincinnati tied the game in the eighth when Vada Pinson singled, stole second and scored on Gordie Coleman's single.

Bobby Shantz had replaced Francis with two out and a one and three count on Coleman. Coleman hit the first ball Shantz threw.

Then, with Brosnan turning the Pirates back in order and with two out, Pinson knocked an Elroy Face pitch into the right field bleachers to end the game in the tenth. Shantz had gone out for a pinch hitter in the ninth.

Reds' newcomer Ken Johnson (2-0) was scheduled to oppose Larry Jackson (7-8) tonight.

Crashes Kill 18 Ohioans On Weekend

Traffic	18
Drownings	4
Miscellaneous	1
Total	23

By The Associated Press

While everyone's attention was turned toward space this weekend, there didn't appear to be enough space on Ohio's highways. Motorists literally flew off them and found it hard missing each other.

At least 18 persons were killed in Ohio traffic accidents from 6 p.m. Friday through midnight Sunday.

In addition, The Associated Press tabulated four drownings and one miscellaneous death.

In one highway crash in Perry County, a Columbus motorist was killed when his car sailed 42 feet through the air over an embankment and crashed into a tree 10 feet up.

In Toledo, a car smashed into a bus stop sign, two parked autos and a utility pole, throwing out and killing four of its five occupants. The coroner said the speedometer was frozen at 85 miles per hour.

That was one of three multiple fatality road crashes. The others, both in Cleveland, each claimed two lives.

The fatalities:

Friday

Kenneth P. Gordon, 17, North Baltimore, when the car in which he was riding missed a curve and flipped over on a Hancock County road 2½ miles south of New Baltimore.

Robert Bobosh, 31, Akron, when his auto went off an expressway there and smashed into an exit sign.

Richard F. Smith, 32, Kenton, when his car and a truck collided head-on five miles east of Caledonia (Marion County) on U.S. 30S.

Robert M. Darling, 24, Cleveland, Miss., when, while trying to direct traffic around his stalled truck on U.S. 22 west of Cambridge, a car skidded into the rear of it and he tried to jump to safety and was hit by a truck in the next lane.

Saturday

Mrs. Vera Braden, 75, Rt. 1, Ashland, when the car in which she was riding went off U.S. 42 and hit a tree 2½ miles northeast of Mansfield.

Jack Thompson, 57, Dayton, when his car jumped a curb there and struck a utility pole.

Sunday

Richard A. Gilva, 4, Avon Lake, drowned in a lake at Findley State Park near Wellington (Lorain County).

Marla Ann Gates, 1, Grafton, when she wandered away from her parents and fell off a boat dock into Sandusky Bay at Sandusky.

Roy Nicholson, 21, Youngstown, drowned after going swimming in Lake Milton near there.

Alex Fusco, 13, Mansfield, drowned in Lake Erie about two miles east of Sandusky after falling off a rubber mattress on which he was floating.

Reuben Chester Hanes, 76, North Bend, struck by a B & O train near his Hamilton County home.

Jerome Kriasky, 18, and Francis Dehaney, 17, both of Brooklyn, of injuries received late Saturday night when the car in which they were riding hit a utility pole in that Cleveland suburb.

Ronald Cook, 19, the driver; Miss Toni Bartels, 20; her brother, Larry, 21, and Thelma Reed, 20, all of Toledo, then their car hit a bus stop sign, two parked cars and a utility pole in that city.

Layburn Lydic, 22, Barberton, when his car hit a pole along a highway near Norton, south of Barberton.

David Floyd, 11, Columbus, when he fell from a moving house trailer onto U.S. 23 three miles south of Circleville.

Charles Alston, 36, and Arthur Morrison, 36, both of Cleveland, when a car driven by Alston collided with another there.

John B. Brunton, 22, Columbus, when a car went off Ohio 13, sailed 42 feet through the air over an embankment and crashed into some trees three miles south of Corning (Perry County).

Borrower Repays $5 To Late GF's Parents

MCRAE, Ark. (AP) — The man who borrowed $5 from Herschel V. Bruce 17 or 18 years ago has paid his debt.

"Here is the $5 that I owed your son," the unidentified man wrote Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Bruce. "I wish I could give it to him in person but I can't."

Herschel V. Bruce was killed in World War II action in France July 11, 1944.

Omaha Leader Taken

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — William J. Coad, 81, Omaha business and civic leader and a key figure in Nebraska soil conservation efforts, died Sunday. He was chairman of the board of Omar Inc., a bakery concern and a former chairman of the board of trustees of Creighton University.

Lawyers Set For Stand On Segregation

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Fireworks over the U.S. Supreme Court's antisegregation decisions were a possibility as the American Bar Association opened its 84th annual convention today.

Before the House of Delegates, policy-making body of the association, was a resolution calling in effect upon Southern states to cease their fight to preserve color lines.

Prepared by a seven-man committee on the Bill of Rights, headed by attorney Rush H. Limbaugh of Cape Girardeau, Mo., the report said the constitutional issue has been settled. It said racial differentiation in public treatment offends the Constitution.

State officials who "disregard the constitutional rights of our people," it added, damage the United States at home and abroad.

One member of the Bill of Rights committee took issue with the report. Alfred J. Schweppe, constitutional law specialist from Seattle, Wash., called the Supreme Court decision against school segregation unconstitutional. He accused the court of making a "social revolution" without legal warranty.

St. Louis hotels were strained to the limit as lawyers poured in for the convention. Counting them and their families, an estimated 10,000 were here. The ABA has about 100,000 members.

President Kennedy had been invited to attend but sent regrets, along with a message stressing "the importance of the lawyer in maintaining those freedoms which distinguish us from the Communist world."

On the convention agenda today was the election of John C. Satterfield of Yazoo City, Miss., as ABA president. His election was a formality. He has been president-elect for the past year.

Ex-Convict, 48, Flees West Virginia Officers

BECKLEY (AP) — Two State Troopers exchanged gunfire Sunday with an ex-convict wanted on a charge of burglary and arson. The man, Franklin Rice, about 48, of White Oak, escaped.

The officers said Rice apparently fled from his mother's house when they went back to their patrol car to radio for help.

Troopers W. R. Dyer and J. E. Parsons went to the house to arrest Rice in connection with the burglary and burning of a home at Cool Ridge last Friday night. The troopers radioed for aid after using up all their ammunition.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Mutual Enjoyment Helps In Speech

Those especially interested in how speech develops best in the infant and young child are emphasizing more and more his emotions and his parents' emotions; how he feels toward them and they toward him. It's not merely the time the infant spends with his mother but how Dr. Garry Meyers comfortable and happy they feel toward each other. This may have something to do with how much she wanted the baby and how glad she is to have him, and how adequate she feels as a person, wife and mother; whether she is serene and highly certain or tense, worried and anxious about everything she does for him; whether she is happy and often talks to him or is silent and preoccupied and lets him merely vegetate while she is in his presence or cares for him.

SHE DOES WELL when she often smiles at him and fondles him because she likes to do so. She talks to him in quiet lovely, happy tones practically from the time he is born and keeps on doing so, long before he even makes a sound in response to her. And when he begins to coo and later to babble, she enjoys his sounds and makes him aware of her enjoyment.

Before long, the mother sings lullabies to him as she fondles him. She says rhythmically little nursery rhymes as she does things to him, like "Rub a dub dub," when she dries him after his bath. Also, she talks to him as she dresses or undresses him: "Now the stocking, on the foot it goes. Now the shoe."

And when he begins to imitate some of her sounds, she expresses more pleasures, causing him to try to imitate still more. When, by and by, he says a recognizable word she says it after him, both feeling greatly pleased.

ALTHOUGH IT MAY be well for her to say some of his many sounds after him, thereby encouraging him to make more sounds, she's wise, perhaps, not to repeat his baby talk when she knows he has hit on a word he uses over and over but very different in sound from the correct word.

At such a time, she had better say the correct word softly, lovingly, after he has said the wrong one for it, though not asking him to say it after her.

If he has found he can, by and by, make her understand his mere grunts and gestures, she may incline to refuse to accept his communicating, hoping to force him to speak conventional words. This is dangerous procedure.

It's safer to accept his own way but to say kindly the correct word, hoping that, because of their mutual enjoyment, he will choose to speak more and more conventional words.

My bulletins, "The Young Child's Speech" and "Stubbornness," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

an invitation to sing for the Chester Junior Women's Club Guest Night Oct. 16.

Proceeds from projects will go to a bus fund for the annual convention next spring in Atlantic City.

Guests were Miss Jan Herrington and Miss Ila Grimm of East Palestine, Mrs. Evelyn Richards of Rochester, Mrs. Edna Wolfe of Midland and Mrs. Beverly McKnight of Newell.

Muldrew Due Hearing For Store Killing

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Patrick L. Muldrew Jr. was to go before a U. S. Commissioner today to say if he will waive extradition to West Virginia. He is wanted in connection with the robbery of a grocery store in which the co-manager was killed.

The FBI said Muldrew, 27, had orally agreed to return to West Virginia.

He is charged with murder and with being an accomplice in the robbery of an A&P store in Elm Grove, a Wheeling, W. Va., suburb.

Muldrew, of Tiltonsville, Ohio, told a newsman he did not take part in the crime although he was asked to drive the get-away car.

Robert Satterfield, 25, of Benwood, W. Va., was arrested for the holdup. He is charged with murder and armed robbery.

Robert R. Nelson, 30, was fatally shot as he chased Satterfield. Muldrew said he refused to drive the get-away car and when he heard on the radio that he had been charged, "I panicked and took off."

Police in Wheeling, meanwhile, picked up Muldrew's girl friend, Marilyn Willison, 24, of Bellaire, Ohio. They quoted her as saying Muldrew put her on a bus for home in New Orleans last Thursday night.

The robbery July 29 netted $2,700, police said.

'Handyman Bill' Fails To Fix Noisy Muffler

7 FRANKLIN SQUARE, N.Y. (AP)—Bill Hunting's car has a noisy muffler, and when he comes to call just about everybody knows it.

That's a handy thing for a handyman—which Bill is. But it's mighty embarrassing for a burglar—which police say Bill also is.

One of four victims whose homes were burglarized Sunday listened to the burglar's car pulling away, picked up the phone and told police: "Bill the handyman was here and robbed us."

Police picked up Bill and charged him with burglary.

Gunmen Caught In Theft Trap By Cincinnati Police

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two gunmen were in Hamilton County jail today as the result of an elaborate police trap which was sprung as they tried to rob a chain restaurant auditor of the firm's receipts.

They were identified as John B. Seehorn, 21, Elizabethton, Tenn., and Fred Gibson, 27, Covington, Ky.

Police Chief Donald Shanks of suburban Mariemont said the trap was set after officers noticed Gibson repeatedly trailed the auditor, Jerry Putty, 28, Cincinnati, to the Central Trust Co. branch in Mariemont.

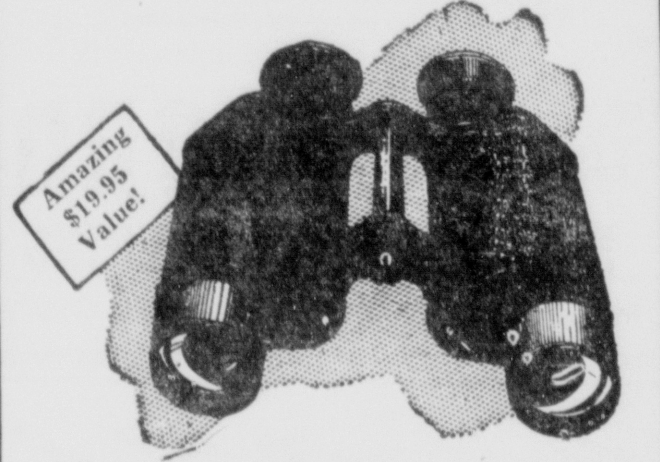

Police said Putty normally deposits about $3,000 there every trip. Sunday he agreed to make the journey carrying dummy money. Three police cars followed his automobile and officers were hidden in the area.

Police said Seehorn walked up to Putty as the auditor got out of his car. He told Putty to get back in the car, showed him a gun and told him to start driving, police reported.

At this point, the police interfered. Seehorn surrendered in Putty's car and Gibson was caught in his own car parked nearby. Both were charged with robbery and carrying concealed weapons.

The word "wedding" is derived from the word which originally meant money, houses, cattle and anything that was used to buy a wife. From "wed," the idea of pledging, or wedding the bride was evolved. The derivation of this word indicates woman's position in early marital arrangements.

Question: We intend to have a concrete swimming pool built near our house. Some time ago I read about gunite pools. Are they concrete? Can they be built to a desired size and shape?

Answer: Yes, a gunite pool is concrete. The difference is that the mixture is applied by pneumatic pressure through a kind of gun. A gunite pool can be installed only where the soil is not too sandy. It can be built to any desired size and shape.

Question: We are having a table refinished. The man doing the job says he will use a fuming process. Can you tell us whether this is necessary?

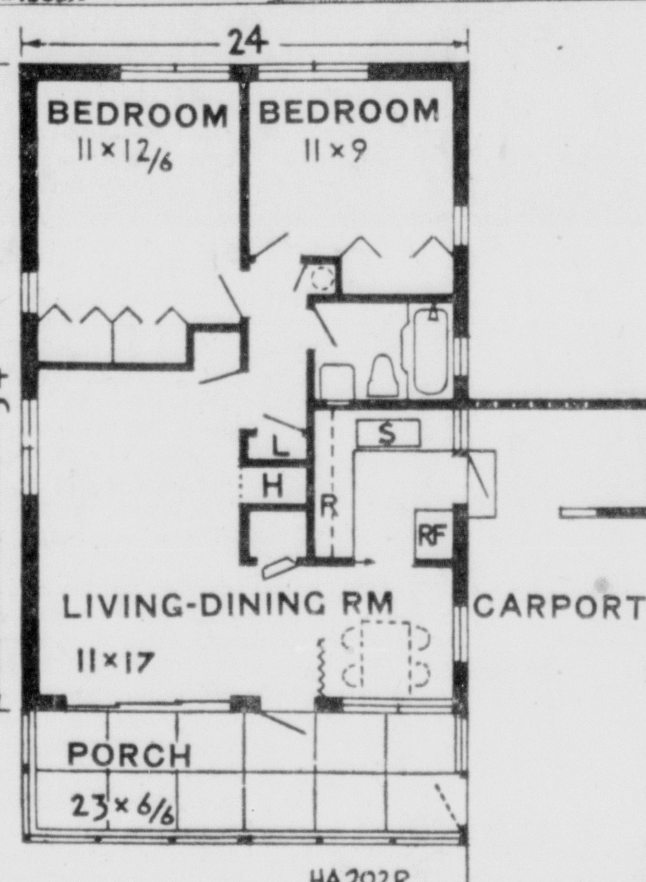

Answer: We assume he told you what fuming is, but just in case: it's exposing the wood to ammonia fumes in an air-tight box or room. Veteran wood finishers say this process allows the stain to penetrate more deeply and color more evenly. We've never had any trouble with good quality commercial stains, even without resorting to fuming.

Question: I plan on making a wooden workbench. What kind of wood should be used for the top?

Answer: Maple is probably the best from the standpoint of toughness and strength. But birch, beech, fir and any one of several others would be satisfactory.

The Boston rocker with its high spoked back, curved seat and floral trim once was so popular in America that it was called "the chair that rocks the nation."

Every so often a particular column brings forth a sudden flood of mail.

But we were entirely unprepared for the response to a recent story quoting recognized authorities about the future in the housing field.

Most letter-writers usually are regular homeowners. In this case, most of the comments came from the type of persons who had been quoted in the story; in other words, more recognized authorities.

Space doesn't permit us to pass along all of the interesting remarks we received, but we thought you'd be interested in at least a couple of them.

Regarding a prediction that by the 1980's, entire houses will be constructed of plastics, a building materials specialist, Sheldon Cady, calls attention to the role of plastics in the interior of homes.

He says plastics have helped many "second home" buyers do an excellent job of furnishing vacation retreats. Cady cites the interior of a one-room cottage which was furnished experimentally, using plastics as much as possible, for an estimated cost of $1,500.

The plastics used in furnishing and equipping this cottage ranged from mattresses and pillows made of urethane foam to texturized nylon rugs to plastic dinnerware. The $1,500 included all non-plastic units, such as metal cabinets and stainless steel flatware.

From a building authority comes a prediction that "within the next two decades, there will be more people living in apartments than in private homes."

Samuel J. Lefrak visualizes the home of tomorrow as a luxurious apartment unit in a 40-to-50-story building in a multi-dwelling development.

Each living unit will have been carefully laid out to have a maximum of light and ventilation, with large windows and a terrace overlooking green landscaped grounds.

Lefrak says there's a strong possibility that these homes may be rented according to square foot area rather than by rooms, with movable partitions so that tenants may enjoy open plan living and divide the space as their individual space requirements change.

The cultural side of life will not be neglected in these apartments of the future. Lefrak foresees theaters, libraries and similar projects on the premises of future apartment clusters.

Haste Can Mean Waste

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A late vacation may bring out the best in the do-it-yourself type. Cooler weather may spur him on to projects his wife has not even suggested for a year.

But one big fault of this "at leisure" group is the attitude that, once begun, the project must be finished before the return to work.

He starts out with a gargantuan appetite for accomplishment, but soon his spirits are likely to be dampened by the enormous project that he has chosen for his short-range plan.

Many half-finished jobs that might have looked respectable even though left short of their work goal become messy because of the frantic attitude of the builder.

Sometimes the fault lies with the lady of the household who has insisted "you'd better finish that mess before you go back to work."

THEN TOO, there are certain jobs with built-in snags worth the wary eye of the amateur carpenter.

Hanging a door, for instance. This often is the bete noir of an overconfident do-it-yourselfer. Even professional carpenters have trouble with doors, especially in sticky weather.

A door may swell, and be planned down, only to prove a problem in winter when large gaps appear at the bottom or sides. Careful planning, good instructions, common sense and patience pay off in door hanging. Or save the job for a professional. It could be cheaper than buying a new door.

Little things like the wrong adhesives can ruin a project. The adhesives recommended for a particular material should be used. If they aren't available, postpone the project.

The buckling of wall materials often is due to the wrong adhesive or speed of application. New type wall fabrics and tiles have different requirements for application. When it comes to application, it takes only a little longer to get the wall fabric sized and cut properly for a smooth fit.

Plastic tiles can slip as the result of hasty application as one man found after tiling a bathtub area. And then just try to repair that damage!

Ceramic tiles are best left to professionals unless one is a meticulous worker, willing to spend the time researching the job.

PAINTING may have become simplified with new paints and materials, but paint shouldn't be slopped over an unconditioned surface, if you'd achieve good results.

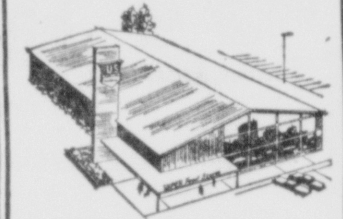

Sanding, scraping, repairing, priming may be required to do a good job. It is better to do one room properly than try to rush through three rooms.

Floor tiles must be laid on a proper surface. If the floor is uneven the tiles will buckle. Plywood may be required as a surface to insure smooth footing. If a checkerboard pattern is planned, it should be sketched out on graph paper before laying it on the floor.

Hasty application must be avoided too in screening a porch. Time and patience is required to get the screening taut, but it will pay off in personal satisfaction. Wavy, uneven screening is the result of a careless project.

It is worth investigating types of screening, however. Rigid material may be applied more successfully by the home worker, perhaps, than more flexible types.

Here's How To Fix Door Which Won't Stay Closed

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Of the many minor irritations to be found around the house, there is none more common than the door that will not stay closed.

As a rule, this is caused by shrinkage of the door or frame, with the small tongue of the lock assembly failing to slip into the square hole in the striking plate. When the striking plate has two holes in it, the larger of them is usually the hole for the latch bolt, which is operated by a key.

Usually the adjustment necessary is a matter of only a fraction of an inch. The average homeowner can easily do this job himself and save the expense of calling in a professional carpenter—if he can get one for such a small job.

You can, of course, take the plate off, chisel out a bit of wood as required and reset the plate so that the tongue fits in properly, but there is a better and easier way to do it.

After you see where the trouble is, remove the plate and place it in a vise. Using a fine file, enlarge the hole slightly—just enough to insure good operation—and then replace the plate in exactly the same spot. This method overcomes the difficulty without marring any woodwork or requiring puttying or painting. A door which fails to remain shut is a dangerous thing to have in the house. It is particularly bad at night when darkness may allow a person to walk into the edge of a half-open door.

On outside doors it is also a menace, as many owners have slammed the doors closed behind them, had them fail to latch properly, and have come home to burglarized houses.

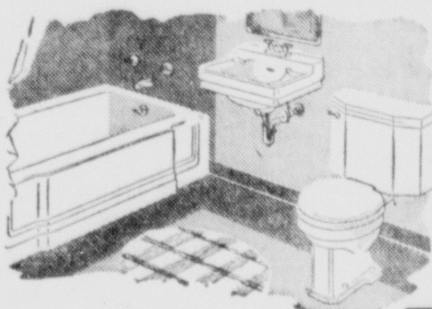

In a few instances, it has been found that a slight sagging of the door, due to a loose hinge, will cause this trouble. Therefore, the screws holding the door hinges should be checked and turned up tight.

The boojum tree thrives only in the central desert of Mexico's Baja California.

Judge Requests Return Of Stolen Art At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An Allegheny County judge says he is acting only as a private citizen in the role of intermediary for the return of 10 valuable paintings stolen from Pittsburgh industrialist G. David Thompson.

Judge Henry X. O'Brien of Common Pleas Court said Saturday he has agreed to act as an intermediary for Thompson, a personal friend. The paintings were taken from Thompson's suburban Whitehall home July 29.

"I will not be an intermediary in the sense that I will be dealing with crooks directly," O'Brien said. "No money will be handled by me. I will be acting as a person making a public appeal for the paintings' return."

He said an intermediary could arrange to recover the paintings and even arrange for payment of the money, but he couldn't arrange not to prosecute or grant any immunity.

O'Brien appealed to "anyone who may know the whereabouts of these paintings" to contact him. Thompson has offered a $100,000, no-questions-asked reward if the works are returned undamaged. Stolen were six Picassos, one Miro, one Matisse and two Legers. Other paintings were damaged by the thieves. He declined to estimate their value.

Negroes Plan More Pickets

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Negro leaders have issued a call for increased picketing at a Nashville, Tenn., supermarket chain store where club-swinging police broke up a racial disturbance and arrested 15 Negroes and white persons.

Among those arrested were Willie James Thomas, Cincinnati, and Charles Frederick McDew, 28, Massillon, Ohio, both Negroes.

The appeal for doubling the number of pickets was made at a mass meeting of about 500 persons in a Baptist church Sunday.

Negro demonstrators recently turned their attention to hiring practices after winning desegregation of lunch counters and some downtown theaters with sit-ins and stand-ins.

Saturday night about 40 demonstrators were picketing the H.G. Hills store carrying signs charging management refused to hire Negroes as clerks.

Police Inspector Carney Patterson said a furious clash was touched off when about half a dozen teen-age white boys drove by and spotted the pickets. They began throwing eggs and tomatoes and shouting taunts. Several of the pickets were beaten to the ground and their signs torn to shreds.

Patterson said 10 of the 15 arrested were members of the picket line which was organized by the Nashville Student Nonviolent Movement. One white youth and one Negro were treated at a hospital for bumps and bruises.

Ohio Air Guard Takes Part In Jet Exercises

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C. (AP)—Jet fighter-bombers with Ohio Air Guard markings roared off the runway of Myrtle Beach Air Force Base today to help the "Boltucians" repel the invading "Charlottians."

The F84F Thunderstreak jets and pilots are from the Ohio Air National Guard's 166th Tactical Fighter Squadron. The Columbus-based outfit is taking part in "exercise Swift Strike," largest peacetime training maneuvers in 20 years.

"Swift Strike" simulates a limited war situation in which the fictitious nation of "Charlotta" attacks pro-Western (and equally fictitious) "Boltucia." More than 35,000 regular and reserve soldiers and airmen are taking part.

Ohio's Air Guardsmen arrived Sunday and will be flying ground support missions for the next two weeks.

Amvit Shuts Lisbon Plant

The Lisbon plant of the American Vitriified Products Co. has been closed permanently, according to Supt. Clayton Hunter, who said he has not been advised of any disposition of the property on the Elkton Rd.

The Lisbon plant has been idle since last October and notices of the shutdown were mailed to some 90 employees Friday, along with their 1961 vacation checks.

Only the superintendent and an office assistant remain at the plant, which converted from steel-mill hot-tops six years ago to the production of sewer pipe. Between 100 and 110 worked when it was making the steel liners.

The company's East Liverpool plant has been "taking up the slack" since the Lisbon plant was idled and Paul Calhoun, superintendent of the East End facility, said it is working normally with 160 employed.

The East End plant was termed bigger and more modern in contrast to the Lisbon plant with its high operating costs. This and economic conditions in general resulted in the closing of the county-seat unit, according to Hunter. Amvit's headquarters are in Cleveland and it operates a number of sewer pipe plants in several states.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our lovely 17-year-old Lois was accepted at one of the country's finest schools last fall. She did poorly and was not invited to return. We were disappointed and baffled because her high school record was excellent. Last night she told us the whole sordid story. Lois fell in love with a professor who is married and almost 20 years older than our child. She became so emotionally involved she was unable to keep her mind on her studies.

A 17-year-old is a minor. He may have to sign a sworn statement, so consider all the angles before you move.

Career-Minded

Dear Ann: I'm a gal who has an unusual problem. I make too much money.

I've had two unsuccessful marriages because both men earned less than I did. Whenever anything went wrong I was accused of being "domineering and competitive."

Now I am in love with a wonderful man and I want to marry him but he insists that I quit work. I think this is foolish because with our combined incomes we could live beautifully. His income would cover only the bare necessities and perhaps a few not-so-fancy extras.

I'm accustomed to a high standard of living which I can maintain very nicely alone. This marriage means I would have to step down a few pegs. Any advice?

DILEMMA.

Dear Dil: Have you checked the Aga Khan? Perish the thought that you might have to "step down a few pegs!"

You shouldn't be married, Lady. It's really a high standard of living you want, not a husband. So spare yourself a third flop and let's hope that you and your standard of living will be very happy.

Wandering Aunt

Dear Ann: This is a very touchy one. Please tell us what to do. My aunt (who is my dad's sister) is not exactly all there. She's harmless but her mind wanders a lot.

When my uncle passed away two years ago he left her an awful lot of money. She lives well, travels a lot and has the best of everything.

For a wedding gift she gave us a sizable check. We went to cash it last week and it bounced. Dad says it's impossible that she is out of money. His theory is that she has several bank accounts and is confused. Dad thinks we should tell her. My husband says he'd rather skip it. I am TORN.

Dear Torn: Your dad gave you good advice—take it. And I suggest that your Dad have a talk with his plicated sister and urge her to enlist the services of an accountant or an attorney. She needs help.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to all the kind friends, relatives and neighbors whose expressions of sympathy meant so much to me at the death of my beloved husband, Mrs. James Murdoch.

WE will always remember the many acts of kindness and sympathy shown us by our friends and neighbors at the time of our loved one's death. My sincere thanks to Rev. Davidson for his consoling words and to the Dawson Funeral Home. Hazel, daughter Carole Sue, Mother, Father, and Brothers.

IN MEMORIAM

BUTLER — William E. In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, whom God called to His heavenly home, the young in life and loved by all. He died 10 years ago, Aug. 6, 1950.
